Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Graduates and guests led by John Robin Rice

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Awarding of Diplomas

Recessional

President Gee looks forward to personally congratulating you and your graduate immediately following the ceremony in French Field House.

Excerpts from the commencement
ceremony will be broadcast on WOSU-TV,
Channel 34, at 5:30 p.m. today.

Commencement Address

D. Richard McFerson

D. Richard McFerson was named president and chief executive officer of the Nationwide Insurance Enterprise, a $42-billion business based in Columbus, in December 1992.

Mr. McFerson joined Nationwide in 1979 as vice president of internal audits. He has served as vice president of individual life, health, and tax-sheltered products and senior vice president of finance. Prior to joining Nationwide, he was with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston, where he served as senior vice president and controller, and with Surety Life Insurance Company in Salt Lake City, where he served as senior vice president of finance. Before entering the insurance field in 1970, he was with the accounting firm of Ernst and Young.

A native of Los Angeles, Mr. McFerson earned a bachelor of science in business education in 1959 from UCLA and a master's degree in public administration from the University of Southern California in 1972. He is a certified public accountant (CPA) and holds the chartered life underwriter (CLU) professional designation.

Mr. McFerson is active in issues of public safety. He is immediate past board chairman of the Insurance Information Institute, co-chair of the Board of Advocates for Highway and Auto Safety, and past board chairman of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. He is a member of the board of trustees for the National Commission Against Drunk Driving and is on the executive committee of the American Red Cross national board, currently serving as chair of the Biomedical Services Board.

His community involvement is extensive. He is board chairman of Ohio Dominican College, board chairman of the Center of Science & Industry (COSI) and co-chair of the center's building committee, and is on the boards of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, BalletMet, Children's Hospital, and the Greater Columbus Convention Center. He chaired the Franklin County United Way campaign in 1990.

Ohio State is honored to welcome this innovative and committed business and community leader to address our graduating class.

Recipients of Honors

Willy Burgdorfer Doctor of Science

As one of the world's eminent microbiologists, Willy Burgdorfer has laid the groundwork for much of the research performed today on tick-borne diseases.

Born and educated in Basel, Switzerland, Dr. Burgdorfer received his doctorate in zoology and bacteriology from the University of Basel in 1951. Following his graduation, he was awarded a United States Public Health Service fellowship at the Rocky Mountain Laboratory in Hamilton, Montana, where he was a research associate and a visiting scientist. Following his naturalization as an American citizen in 1957, he served the Rocky Mountain Laboratory in various research and administrative positions for 35 years.

Dr. Burgdorfer has gained international recognition for his research on the interactions between animal and human disease agents and their transmitting arthropod vectors, particularly ticks. His research contributions published in more than 200 scientific papers and books cover a wide field of investigations on relapsing fevers and rickettsial and viral diseases.

Dr. Burgdorfer devised a simple test that has been applied extensively to determine whether persons bitten by ticks should receive preventive treatment for spotted fever.

More recently, Dr. Burgdorfer discovered the tick-borne spirochete that is the cause of Lyme disease and related disorders, leading to better diagnosis and treatment of these widespread inflammatory diseases. In recognition of Dr. Burgdorfer's discovery, the causative agent was named Borellia burgdorferi.

Dr. Burgdorfer retired from the Public Health Service in 1986. As scientist emeritus, he remains active in numerous collaborative projects and continues to lecture regularly in both North America and Europe. He has served as guest lecturer on epidemiology at Ohio State's intensive Acarology Summer Program for more than 10 years.

Among his many honors are the DHEW Superior Service Award (1974); the Schaudinn-Hoffman Plaque (1985) from the German Society of Dermatologists; the Bristol Award of the Infectious Diseases Society (1989); and the Walter Reed Medal (1990) from the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene.

Ohio State is pleased to add its own recognition to the many deserved honors bestowed on this respected scientist, teacher, and friend of the university.

Recipients of Honors

Daniel M. Galbreath Distinguished Service Award

The chairman, chief executive officer, and president of The Galbreath Company, Daniel M. Galbreath is both a community leader and a loyal alumnus.

A graduate of Amherst College, Mr. Galbreath received his MBA degree from Ohio State in 1952. He then joined his father, John W. Galbreath, in The Galbreath Company, a Columbus-based real estate development, managing, and leasing company. During the 1950s and 60s he assumed leadership of several business interests, including the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball team. Under his presidency, the Pirates captured the 1971 and 1979 World Series pennants. The family sold its majority interest in the team in 1985. He continues his involvement in owning and breeding Thoroughbred race horses.

Today, The Galbreath Company has management and leasing projects in more than 30 U.S. cities, as well as developments in Hong Kong and Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. The company has offices in 16 U.S. cities, Mexico City, and London.

Mr. Galbreath has been involved with numerous business and civic ventures. He is a director of the National Realty Committee, Borden Chemicals and Plastics Partnership, Churchill Downs Inc., Keeneland Association, the Columbus Chamber of Commerce (of which he is also a former chair), and the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Ohio State has benefited through the years from Mr. Galbreath's counsel as a member and chair of the university's board of trustees, the board of directors of the Development Fund, the National Campaign Committee, the University Hospitals Board, and the Foundation Board. He played a key role in the university's first major capital campaign (1985-90), providing leadership in the Campaign Steering Committee and the Columbus Regional Campaign. He is a member of The Presidents Club Cabinet and has supported a wide variety of projects at the university, including the College of Veterinary Medicine equine science program, the John W. Galbreath Chair in Real Estate, the School of Music, and the Marching Band.

For his unfailing support and dedication to the university and to the greater community, Ohio State proudly recognizes this distinguished business and civic leader.

Joseph F. Stranges Distinguished Service Award

As a key administrator in the Office of Minority Affairs for more than 20 years, Joseph F. Stranges, Jr., helped countless students negotiate the intricacies of Ohio State's financial aid system, enabling them to pursue their degrees.

A native of Holloway, Ohio, Dr. Stranges entered the Army Air Corps in 1942, serving for three years. Following his honorable discharge, he ran his family's restaurant business in Holloway while commuting 100 miles twice a week for evening college courses. After selling the business in 1956, he enrolled in Ohio State's College of Education, receiving his bachelor of science degree in 1958, his master's degree in 1964, and his doctorate in 1970.

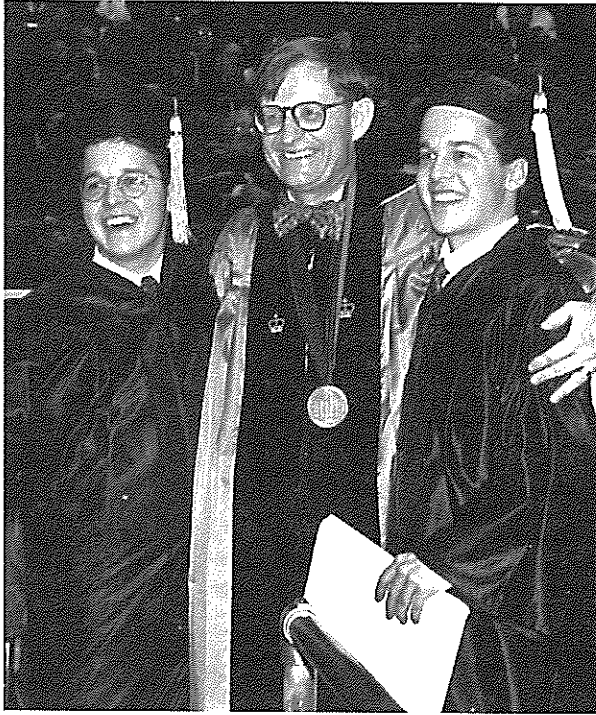

He taught and coached in the Columbus Public School System before joining the Ohio State staff in 1966 as director of loans in Student Financial Aid. He then served as director of counseling services in the financial aid office and director of student financial aid in the Office of Minority Affairs. At the time of his retirement in 1988, he was director of student financial aid in the Office of Minority Affairs. Dr. Stranges died in October 1993.

Dr. Stranges was known for his compassion and his expertise. He conducted workshops for such groups as the College Scholarship Service, the American College Test (ACT), and the Midwest Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators. A tireless volunteer, he worked with the Columbus Jacob Ashburn Youth Center, receiving a community service award in 1975. He counseled for agencies such as Columbus Education Resources, Columbus Urban League, Columbus Public Schools, and the Columbus Metropolitan Area Community Action Organization. Toward the end of his life, he did volunteer counseling with individuals with end-stage kidney failure.

Among his many honors were Annual Service Awards from Ohio State's Office of Minority Affairs in 1970 and 1980; Ohio State's Distinguished Affirmative Action Award in 1983; and service recognition from the Ohio Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators.

It is with profound gratitude that Ohio State recognizes the years of unselfish service given by this distinguished gentleman to his university and its students.

A Message From President Gee

Most of us measure our lives in year-long cycles, beginning in January and ending in December. But those of us in education observe a different calendar—one in which the year-end celebration is a graduation, and the days are counted in quarters or semesters.

For college students, the cycle begins that first autumn when they arrive on campus and advances through classes and exams, vacations and summer jobs, until commencement day finally arrives. And that day comes four times a year when students from Ohio State graduate to the cheers of proud relatives and friends.

Now, these newly minted alumni will look back briefly and move on, shifting into the day-to-day rhythms of hoped-for employment. They will leave behind late nights filled with cold pizza and hot debate. No more 7:30 in the morning classes, but instead a 7:30 commute to the office. No more papers due for class, but reports due for work. They will trade their backpacks for briefcases, their ball caps for business suits.

There is no doubt that they have been changed by their college experience. Those years spent at a major research university represent not only a growth in knowledge, but a growth in wisdom and common sense—a maturing process that prepares a student for life in the “real world.” And that world does not stand still.

We need only look at the capitals of the world and the corporations of America to realize that powerful forces have been at work. During the time it has taken this most recent crop of graduates to complete their educations, the Soviet Union has come apart, Germany has come together, ethnic warfare has erupted, trade barriers have fallen, and once-mighty businesses have been brought to their knees by economic forces.

Today's graduates are being launched into a world made smaller by the media and larger by the scope of our global dilemmas: the environment, ethics, illiteracy, racism, sexism, revolution, protest, famine, and poverty.

The world is crying for the compassion and creativity of our graduates. And we need their considerable energy and ingenuity to resolve conflicts, regain civility, and restore our spirits.

That is why for all of us, graduation is a time that renews our hope in the future. As I preside over Ohio State's commencement, I am impressed by the intelligence, dedication, and vigor of our new college graduates, young and not so young. And I feel an old, familiar feeling: optimism. Optimism about the actions our industries are taking to regain a competitive edge. Optimism about the adjustments education is making in response to a changing society. And, most of all, optimism about and faith in this new generation that is about to take its place in our society.

Today, as many of them leave school behind, their memories are bittersweet. One of Ohio State's engineering graduates sent me a letter that, I believe, captures the great joy we share in this special rite of passage and the strength of the educational process. She wrote, “There will be at least one chemical engineer with a tear in her eye as the national anthem is played, a lump in her throat as her college is introduced, a smile on her face as she gets her diploma, and a cry of joy as her father hugs her and says, ‘I am so proud of you!’”

It is a pride in which we can all share. I thank this graduate, and thousands like her, for all they will bring to our society. They are very bright. They work very hard. They have learned to live without security, but they continue to seek it. They are ready not only to cope with change, but to create change. And they have turned away from “me-ism” and are again seeking ways to help their fellow human beings.

I am confident that when this generation assumes leadership, America will be in very good hands.

Congratulations and Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. For you, one era has passed, another is about to begin.

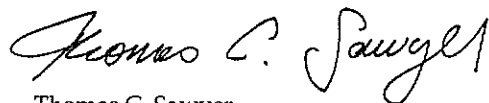

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the University in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the University's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

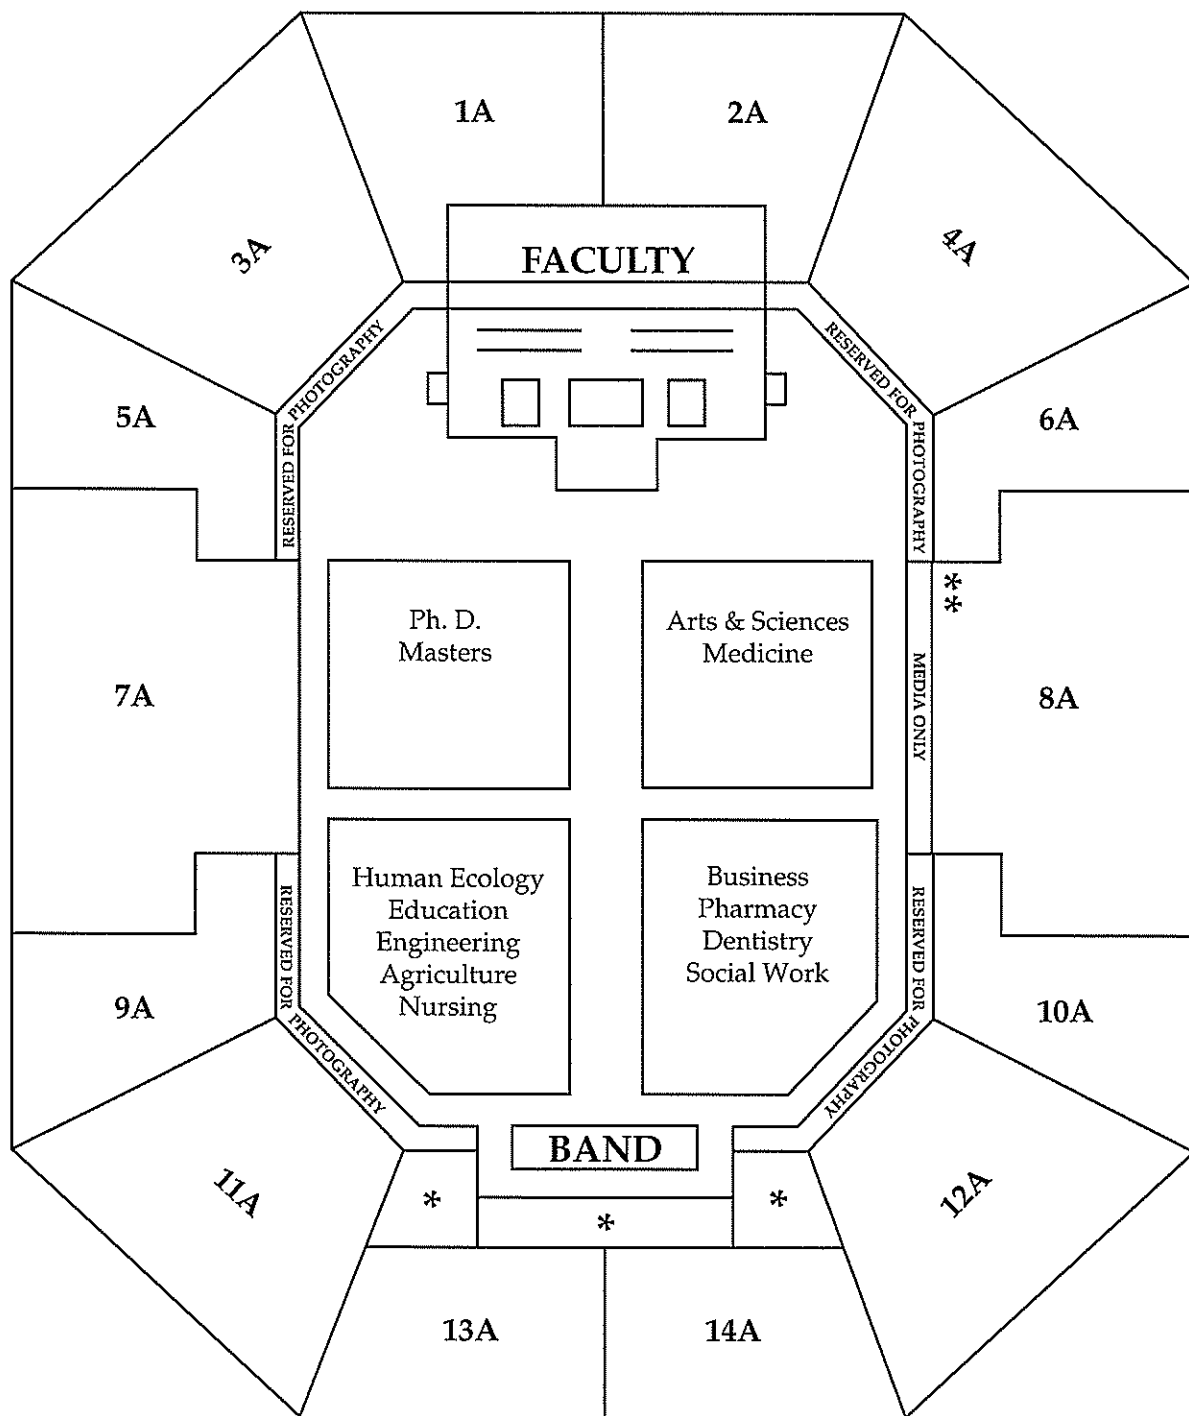

Cordially,

Graduates with Honors

Criteria for graduating with honors are as follows:

Summa Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 3% of the class.

Magna Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 6% of the class.

Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 10% of the class.

With Distinction requires successful completion of a Senior Honors Thesis and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

With Honors in the Liberal Arts requires successful completion of the Arts and Sciences Honors Contract and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

University Commendation designates those whose attainment of high academic standards is judged by the college to be especially meritorious.

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree.

The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Sea-foam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
