Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio
Graduates and guests led by Richard Williams

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

President Kirwan looks forward to personally congratulating you and your graduate

Clark Kellogg, former Buckeye basketball star forward who went on to the National Basketball Association (NBA), is a college basketball analyst for CBS Sports during the regular basketball season and a studio analyst during "March Madness."

A three-year starter, Mr. Kellogg played 86 games for the Buckeyes, averaging 15 points and 10 rebounds per game. In 1982, he was named All-Big Ten and Most Valuable Player and was voted The Chicago Tribune Silver Basketball Award Winner. Mr. Kellogg led the Buckeyes in both scoring and rebounding as a sophomore and junior, ranking 19th in career scoring and fifth in career rebounding at Ohio State. He also ranks fifth in career rebounding average and sixth in blocked shots.

He was 44 hours short of his degree when he left Ohio State after his junior year to enter the NBA draft. He was selected eighth in the first round by the Indiana Pacers and was named to the NBA All-Rookie team in 1983, finishing second in the Rookie of the Year competition. He played five years for the Pacers, averaging 19 points and 10 rebounds per game, until chronic knee problems caused him to retire in August 1987. He continues to serve as the Pacers' television color analyst.

He began his broadcasting career in 1987 as radio analyst for the Pacers and for Cleveland State University basketball. He spent three years at the Big East Television Network before joining ESPN as a game and studio analyst. After doing work for CBS during the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament from 1993 to 1997, Mr. Kellogg joined CBS Sports fulltime in 1997.

Despite success in his professional career, Mr. Kellogg never gave up his desire for a college degree. He returned to Ohio State parttime in 1983 and earned his Bachelor of Science degree in business management in December 1996.

Active in community and church affairs, Mr. Kellogg volunteers time and resources to various organizations, including the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Athletes in Action, the United Way, The College Fund/UNCF, Indiana Special Olympics, and his local church. His many speaking engagements are targeted toward students, civic leaders, and business executives.

This will be his third speaking engagement at Ohio State this year. In February he was the featured speaker at the University Medical Center's Black History presentation, and he addressed students during October's Homecoming festivities focusing on diversity and undergraduate education. Ohio State welcomes Mr. Kellogg back to St. John Arena to address today's graduates.
Adalet Ağaoğlu
Doctor of Humane Letters

Adalet Ağaoğlu is one of Turkey's leading contemporary authors, having written numerous plays, essays, short stories, and novels.

Born in Ankara, Ms. Ağaoğlu studied French at Ankara University, graduating in 1950. While still a student, she began to publish poetry and theater criticism. In 1951 she joined the staff of Ankara Radio where she worked for 20 years as a dramatist and director of radio theater. From 1957 to 1959, she lived in Columbus while her husband was a graduate student in civil engineering at Ohio State.

She was among the founders of the first private theater in Ankara, and has written and published numerous stage plays, beginning with her 1964 play, Esenlik Oyunu ("Playing House"), as well as several collections of her plays. She has also translated into Turkish works by such renowned playwrights as Sartre, Anouilh, Brecht, and Saroyan.

Primarily known today as a novelist, Ms. Ağaoğlu has written eight critically acclaimed novels since her 1973 work, Ölmez Yatmak ("Lying Down to Die"). Her work is gaining international recognition now through translations into English, French, German, and other languages. A Turko-German feature film, "Mercedes Mon Amour," based on her novel, Fikrarin Ince Gülisi ("The Delicate Rose of My Desire"), was produced in 1995 and won a special prize for Best Film from the Federation of International Film Critics and two prizes from the Federation of Turkish Film Critics.

Ms. Ağaoğlu is the recipient of a number of awards since winning a prize in 1949 for her student poems. In 1956, the German government awarded her the Schiller Medal for her work as a dramatist. Her novel, Bir Diğün Gecesi ("An Evening Wedding"), won three different literary prizes in 1979-80. In 1994 she was named Turkey's Woman of the Year, and the following year she received the President of the Turkish Republic's Grand Prize for Culture and the Arts.

Ohio State proudly adds its own honor to those held by this distinguished international woman of letters.

Leonard B. Meyer
Doctor of Humane Letters

A pioneer of the interdisciplinary study of music, Leonard B. Meyer has gained international recognition for his exploration of the intellectual and cultural parallels to musical stylistic developments.

Dr. Meyer held the position of Benjamin Franklin Professor of Music and Humanities at the University of Pennsylvania from 1975 until his 1988 retirement. Prior to that, he served on the faculty of the University of Chicago Department of Music for nearly 30 years. He was head of the Humanities Section of the College from 1958 to 1960 and served as professor and chairman of the Department of Music from 1961 to 1970. In 1972, he was named Phyllis Fay Horton Professor in the Humanities.

A native of New York, Dr. Meyer majored in philosophy as an undergraduate, first at Bard College and then at Columbia University. After service in the infantry in World War II, he returned to Columbia and completed his master's degree in musical composition. He earned his Ph.D. in the history of culture at the University of Chicago in 1954. He studied composition with Karl Weigl, Otto Luening, Aaron Copeland, and Stefan Wolpe, who was his main teacher.

Dr. Meyer has authored five highly regarded books dealing with a wide range of cultural and aesthetic issues, including Emotion and Meaning in Music (1956), The Rhythmic Structure of Music (1960), Music, the Arts, and Ideas: Patterns and Predictions in Twentieth-Century Culture (1967), Explaining Music: Essays and Explorations (1973), and Style and Music: Theory, History, and Ideology (1989). He has also written numerous articles and reviews, and many of his works have been translated into multiple languages. He was a National Book Award nominee in 1967 and 1974.

His scholarship has been recognized with a number of honors, awards, fellowships, and distinguished lectureships, including Fellow at the Center for Advanced Studies at Wesleyan University, Ernst Bloch Professor at the University of California, Tanner Lecturer at Stanford University, Patten Lecturer at Indiana University, and William Poland Lecturer at Ohio State. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1971 and was elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1974.

Ohio State is proud to recognize the wide-ranging intellectual and cultural contributions of this eminent musician, teacher, and scholar.
John J. Barone
Distinguished Service Award

A member of Ohio State's Board of Trustees from 1984 to 1993, John J. Barone is retired attorney/partner and senior member of John J. Barone & Associates of Toledo. He served as the university's board chairman in 1992-93.

During Mr. Barone's tenure on the board, the university's endowment fund rose from $117 million to $481 million, due in part to his counsel as chair of the board's Fiscal Affairs Committee. He also served as chair of the Student Affairs Committee and vice chair of the Educational Affairs Committee. In addition, he played an important role in Ohio State's legislative and fund-raising efforts by emphasizing that Ohio State's mission of teaching, research, and service extended to the entire state of Ohio.

It was Mr. Barone who proposed that the university allow finance students in the Fisher College of Business to invest $5 million of the university's endowment in the stock market as part of a Student Investment Management class. Today the student-run fund exceeds $12 million and has brought national attention to the business school. Mr. Barone and his wife, Rose, continue to support the class through an endowed fund and other contributions.

Mr. Barone attended Canisius Jesuit College and Miami University before receiving his law degree from Ohio State in 1956. A life member of the Ohio State Alumni Association, he began his service to the university while still a law student by cleaning the Ohio Stadium stands following Saturday football games.

From 1987 to 1990, he served on the Ohio State University Research Foundation Board of Directors, and he was appointed by the dean and faculty of the College of Law as an associate editor of the Ohio State Law Journal. He is a member of the American, Federal, Ohio State, and Toledo Bar Associations and the American Judicature Society. From 1945 to 1964, he served as United States Magistrate for the Northern District of Ohio, Western Division.

Active in the Toledo-area business community, Mr. Barone is general counsel and board chairman of Barone Enterprises, Inc. and Rosie's Fine Foods, Inc. He has served as general counsel, officer, and director of Driggs Dairy Farms, The Village Farm Dairy Co., Toledo Milk Processing, and Allied Gear and Sprocket.

Ohio State gratefully acknowledges the firm friendship and tireless support of this dedicated advocate for the university.

Joan Huber
Distinguished Service Award

During a decade of service as an Ohio State faculty member, Joan Huber held two important administrative positions, serving with distinction during a difficult period of restructuring and reduced state funding.

A 1945 graduate of Pennsylvania State University, Dr. Huber earned a master's degree from Western Michigan University in 1963 and a Ph.D. from Michigan State University in 1967. After serving as an instructor in German at Penn State from 1945 to 1947, she resumed her academic career in 1967 as a visiting assistant professor at the University of Notre Dame, becoming an assistant professor of sociology in 1969. In 1971, she joined the sociology faculty of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, becoming director of women's studies in 1978 and head of the Department of Sociology in 1979.

Already an eminent sociologist, Dr. Huber was recruited as dean of the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences and professor of sociology in 1984. For the next eight years, she helped transform the college into one of the strongest units at Ohio State through her support of departmental excellence. She also served as coordinating dean of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences from 1987 to 1992.

In April 1992, she was named senior vice president for academic affairs and provost of the university, serving until August 1993. During this period, the university's fiscal support from the state plummeted, and morale was low.

Dr. Huber's composed and courageous leadership saw Ohio State through the period of crisis, laying the groundwork for the university's successful restructuring and selective investment efforts.

Throughout her tenure at Ohio State, Dr. Huber continued to enhance her reputation as a sociologist by publishing important professional books, articles, and chapters. She has held numerous offices on national associations in her discipline, including serving as president of the American Sociological Association in 1988-89, and has served on a number of editorial and advisory boards of professional journals.

Although she formally retired in 1994, Dr. Huber remains actively involved with Ohio State. She completed a careful study of WOSU, the university's public radio and television station in 1995 and has served as chair of the Committee to Evaluate the Ombuds Office and as a member of the Committee to Evaluate the Office of Minority Affairs.

It is fitting that the university recognize the exceptional service, high standards, and focused leadership of this remarkable scholar and administrator.
A Message from President Kirwan

As Ohio State's new president, I am delighted to join you on this special occasion and to be a member of the university family. Graduation day at Ohio State has been described as a cross between a pep rally, a family reunion, and an academic ceremony. It is all of that—and more.

Commencement is the single greatest event in the life of a university president—a day that reminds all of us that ours is a remarkable institution with a proud tradition and a very bright future. For you, it is a recognition of your hard work and a celebration of your notable achievements.

Now you are about to embark on another phase of your life. And I suspect you face that prospect with excitement and some trepidation. I remember how I felt as a senior at the University of Kentucky. I wasn't sure where I would be the next year. Then I decided to travel east for graduate school and the Great Unknown. I was ready to move on, but reluctant to leave behind friends and mentors, familiar places and comfortable surroundings.

I found myself feeling that same way again a few months ago when I left the University of Maryland after 34 years to come to Ohio State. I was sad to leave good friends, but took with me wonderful memories.

No matter where your opportunities take you, there will be no forgetting the place and process that has forged your life and career. Ohio State has made a difference in your life. And now, armed with an Ohio State education, you will make a difference in the lives of others.

As newly minted alumni, you join a family of more than 300,000 Ohio State graduates throughout the world. Based on the quality of your education and the scope of your achievements, I have no doubt of the impact you will have on your careers and your communities.

You have my hearty congratulations and my very best regards as you take on new challenges.

W.E. Kirwan

William E. Kirwan
President
Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and all those who helped you reach this day go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates’ names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student’s academic or degree status. The University’s official registry for conferral of degrees is the student’s permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation’s English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar’s book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master: Black, long or short sleeves with a reshaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor: Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, with honors in the liberal arts, and with honors in pharmacy.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

| Dentistry | Lilac |
| Law | Purple |
| Medicine | Green |
| Musical Arts | Pink |
| Optometry | Seafoam Green |
| Pharmacy | Olive Green |
| Philosophy | Dark Blue |
| Veterinary Medicine | Gray |

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.
