Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio
Graduates and guests led by
Valerie Denise Jackson
Class of 1982

Oh! come let’s sing Ohio’s praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer’s heat and Winter’s cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Commencement Speaker

Roy M. Kottman

Roy M. Kottman has devoted more than 22 years of service to the state of Ohio. Before being appointed vice president for Agricultural Administration and executive dean for Agriculture, Home Economics, and Natural Resources—he served as dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics for more than 20 years. Aside from holding a professorship in the Department of Animal Science, he is also director of both the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center and the Cooperative Extension Service. In his various administrative posts, he has forged a strong link between the University and business and industry. He has ensured that the great assets and resources of Ohio State have been and will continue to be made available to the farming community, not only throughout Ohio, but throughout the world. Although Dr. Kottman’s basic field is animal science—specifically genetics and breeding—his interests and activities encompass all aspects of research and education in agriculture, home economics, and natural resources. He has received numerous awards for his outstanding service and holds an honorary degree from the University of Wooster. Dr. Kottman is a Fellow of the American Society of Animal Science and is a member of the honorary societies of Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi, as well as a member of Gamma Sigma Delta and Alpha Zeta, agricultural honoraries. In recognition of his service to the University and to the state of Ohio, a permanent endowment in his name was established to provide financial support to students majoring in agriculture, home economics, or natural resources.

The University is proud to have this distinguished administrator, researcher, and teacher address the graduates of its 250th Commencement.
Recipients of Honors

R. M. Lumiansky
Doctor of Humane Letters

An internationally recognized scholar of medieval literature, Dr. Lumiansky is one of the most influential spokesmen for the humanities in the United States today. Dr. Lumiansky played a pivotal role in the establishment of the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Most recently, he was a member of the Presidential Task Force on the Arts and Humanities. A teacher and scholar for more than a quarter century, he is an academic administrator and leader as well. He served as chairman of the departments of English at two universities, as well as dean and then provost at Tulane University. He has taught at Tulane University, Duke University, the University of Pennsylvania, and New York University. Professor Lumiansky’s translation of Chaucer stands as a classic and has brought the joy of the famous poet’s work to many modern readers. His scholarly work has been recognized by the governments of France, from which he received the Palmes Académiques, and of Italy, from which he received the Stella della Solidarietà Italiana. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1968 and is a Fellow of the Medieval Academy of America and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. An author of eight books and more than fifty scholarly articles, he has received honorary degrees from the University of South Carolina, the University of Southern California, the City University of New York, and the University of North Carolina. In bestowing this honor, the University seeks to recognize Dr. Lumiansky for his unfailing commitment to higher education, to scholarship, and, most especially, to the advancement of the humanities.

Elmer Boyd Staats
Doctor of Humane Letters

After receiving his doctoral degree from the University of Minnesota, Elmer Staats joined the New Deal Bureau of the Budget in 1939 and headed up its War Agencies Section during World War II. Serving in every administration since Roosevelt’s, he was appointed Comptroller General of the United States by President Johnson. In his fifteen years as head of the Government Accounting Office, Elmer Staats transformed what was once essentially an accounting and auditing organization into a highly respected voice in public policy. Under his leadership, the GAO’s mission increasingly became one of management consulting—helping other government agencies organize and economize. He also helped shift its focus from examination of financial statements to comprehensive evaluation of large government programs such as Social Security and military procurement. A proponent of frugality in government long before it ever became popular, his efforts and evaluation programs have resulted in many reforms and savings. The greatly widened and altered concepts of comprehensive audit and performance evaluation which he has developed have earned him the highest regard in both the public and private sectors. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he has been a fellow at the Brookings Institution and has received numerous honorary degrees, including Doctor of Laws degrees from Duke University, McPherson College, and Nova University; a Doctor of Public Service degree from George Washington University; and a Doctor of Administration degree from the University of South Dakota. President Reagan arranged for a special ceremony to award Dr. Staats the Presidential Medal of Honor for meritorious service and contributions to the federal government. Today, the University takes great pride in recognizing Elmer Staats for his many years of distinguished government service.
Wayne Woodrow “Woody” Hayes
Distinguished Service Award

Wayne Woodrow Hayes served as head football coach at The Ohio State University for 28 years. During that time, he established himself as one of the all-time great college football coaches. Under his leadership, Ohio State’s football teams achieved a degree of excellence unmatched in the University’s rich athletic history. Aside from his duties as football coach, Woody also enjoyed teaching courses in physical education and athletic administration at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. An avid reader, he is an aficionado of military history. In 1935, he was graduated from Denison University, where he majored in English and history. He holds an M.A. from The Ohio State University in education administration. An inspirational speaker, he has addressed thousands of people, from elementary school age children to professionals in various fields. His speeches are motivational, informative, and unabashedly patriotic. Regardless of the audience, he never fails to mention the merits of Ohio State, the value of college football, and his unswerving belief in his country. In his 33 years as a head football coach, his teams won 238 games, a record which places him fourth among all major college coaches for the most victories. Coach Hayes was named “College Coach of the Year” in 1957 and again in 1975. Thirteen of his OSU teams won Big Ten Championships and five of his teams were named National Champions by one or more of the four recognized selection committees. The university community is proud to honor Coach Hayes for his many years of distinguished and devoted service to The Ohio State University.
Congratulations and welcome to the Alumni Association

As a new graduate, you will receive a year’s free membership in The Ohio State University Alumni Association. Included is a subscription to the Ohio State alumni magazine, which will keep you informed of the University’s continued pursuit of excellence and also help you keep an update on your friends and classmates.

You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you’ve become an alumnus. You don’t look different, but right now you may be experiencing a feeling of excitement, anticipation, and a great desire to celebrate. For you, one era has passed, another is about to begin.

As an alumnus, you are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

Today, and later, you may ask what you can do for the University. There seems to be general agreement on four areas where alumni can provide significant assistance: recruiting of new and highly qualified students; representing Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements; participating financially through the Development Fund; and working in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today’s students for tomorrow’s citizenship.

To you, your families, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our congratulations. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference.

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this Commencement Program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. The University's Official Registry for Conferral of Degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of Registration, Records, and Scheduling, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics as well, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings made caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods a necessity for warmth. Probably because of the costumes’ religious heritage, they remained drab until the universities gradually began to pass from the control of the Church, whereupon some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. However, old prints and engravings reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and the academic costume worn today.

In light of our nation’s strong English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity with regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed which prepared a code for caps, gowns, and hoods, which has been adopted by all institutions. Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the more familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to belled folklore, resembles a scholar’s book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress which might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctor’s degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor Three feet in length with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Master Three and one-half feet in length with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Doctor Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution from which the degree was received. The color of the velvet indicates the field in which the doctoral was granted:

- Dentistry Lilac
- Law Purple
- Medicine Green
- Musical Arts Pink
- Optometry Sea-Foam Green
- Philosophy Dark Blue
- Veterinary Medicine Gray

*Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.
