The Ohio State University
269th Commencement
Summer 1979
The oldest building now standing on The Ohio State University campus is Hayes Hall, home of the Departments of Art and History of Art. Listed in the National Register of Historic Places, Hayes Hall is significant as a prime example of Richardsonian Romanesque architecture; its style was derived from that of a Harvard Law School building designed by the noted 19th century architect Henry Hobson Richardson. Built in 1888 of red pressed brick and Ohio brown sandstone, the building underwent a major internal renovation in 1978.

Hayes Hall was named for U.S. President Rutherford B. Hayes, an Ohio native and once a member of the University’s Board of Trustees. Originally, the building housed not only the fine arts but also the Manual Training School, where students learned carpentry, blacksmithing, and industrial skills. Thanks to the influence of Hayes, a proponent of manual arts training, Ohio State in the 1880s was ahead of its time in recognizing the fine and industrial arts as legitimate pursuits in a university setting. This marriage of academic and applied experience is still reflected in a motto carved above the Romanesque arch at the main entrance of Hayes Hall — “The cultured mind, the skilled hand.”

The sketch shown on the front cover of the program was done by Paul Morrill, retired associate University architect. It is used with the courtesy of the artist.

Alma Mater — Carmen Ohio
Graduates and Guests led by Neal E. Miller
Class of 1979

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship — Ohio.

The Recipients of Honors

Alan K. Campbell
Doctor of Humane Letters

Eminent teacher, scholar, academic administrator, and public servant, Alan K. Campbell embodies the best in the tradition of public administration. With initiative and skill he strengthened and enriched the opportunities for graduate professional education in public service. With concern for his fellow citizens, he directed the most sweeping reform brought to the U.S. Civil Service since its creation. For a career of high distinction and honor, he has earned the esteem and recognition of his profession.

Hal Holbrook
Doctor of Humanities

Artist, humanist, and scholar, Hal Holbrook is at once a distinguished son of Ohio and of the world at large. His unique contributions to the theatre and other media demonstrate vividly the scholarly impact that can result from a nonacademic role. As researcher, creator, and performer in the presentation of Mark Twain, he acquainted a growing public with the wit, wisdom, and humanity of a great American literary figure. His many other works and numerous awards stand in further testimony of a career dedicated to opening the minds of a nation to the rich history and literature of its heritage.

Robert E. Lee
Doctor of Humanities

Distinguished playwright and educator, Robert E. Lee is widely recognized for his creative contributions to American theatre. His success as co-author of 11 Broadway plays and numerous other works is reflected in the devotion of audiences nationwide. His efforts to help establish the American Playwrights Theatre at this University have been instrumental in developing the talents of many young and unrecognized authors. In his work with this and other universities, he has contributed significantly to a deeper grasp of the critical role of the dramatic arts in society.

Martha Nelson Lewis
Doctor of Science

Researcher and educator in dietetic education and practice, Martha Nelson Lewis is recognized as a pioneer in her field. Through innovation made possible only by great conviction and great persistence, she developed a curriculum in Medical Dietetics which has served as a prototype training program throughout the nation. For her ability to stimulate intellectual curiosity, she has the admiration of her students, friends, and colleagues. Standing in affirmation of her professorial talents are the numerous honors and awards she has received, including the highest honor bestowed by the American Dietetic Association.
The Recipients of the Distinguished Service Award

Richard H. Bohning

For nearly 35 years, Richard H. Bohning served this University with dedication of the highest order. With personal and professional devotion, he accepted positions of increasing responsibility, culminating in his distinguished leadership as dean of the College of Biological Sciences. To the wider interests of the University he brought a continuing desire to work toward the goals of academic excellence. For his long-lasting pursuits in the world of science and to the advancement of knowledge, he has earned the ultimate tribute—the esteem and recognition of his colleagues.

Beatrice J. Cleveland

Professor emeritus and former associate state leader of 4-H Club Programs, Beatrice J. Cleveland has played an essential role in enriching the lives of many Ohio youth through her deep involvement in this University and the 4-H programs of the state. Under her leadership, the Ohio International 4-H Youth Exchange was recognized as one of the best in the nation. Her efforts in raising nearly one half million dollars for the Ohio 4-H Foundation affirms her long-lasting dedication to those programs, even in retirement. Her personal inspiration and professional efforts extend far beyond her formal responsibilities and the borders of this campus.

John Briggs Conard

In sentiment and deed, John Briggs Conard represents a long and enduring friendship with this University. For more than 100 years, his family has been dedicated to furthering the missions of Ohio State. His grandfather dug clay and fired brick to construct the University's first building, University Hall. Mr. Conard continued this tradition by supporting and strengthening the pursuit of scholarship within these portals of academe. Through his dedication and loyalty to broadening academic opportunities, he reveals a high vision for students of today and tomorrow. For his generous offerings of time and concern in behalf of this University, he has earned the high regard of those whose lives he has enriched.

Jeannette LaRocque

Formal fiscal officer and assistant to the dean in the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Jeannette LaRocque's generous contributions to the missions of this University extend far beyond the realms of professional duty. With keen insight and knowledge she provided guidance for those she served in managing the fiscal and personnel complexities of this academic community. To the leadership of her college, she gave invaluable counsel and assistance, mastering the puzzle of the letter and spirit of University regulations while attending the needs of faculty and students. For her deep commitment and service, she has earned the admiration of the many whose lives she touched.

J. Paul McNamara

Prominent Ohio attorney, alumnus of this University, J. Paul McNamara represents the finest in dedication for his highly esteemed gifts of time and effort in behalf of legal education. Especially noteworthy was his service as chairman of the College of Law's major gifts committee, the group that raised nearly $7 million dollars in support of the college's programs. His recent appointment as chairman of the National Council of the Colleges of Law affirms his concern for the improvement of legal education, not only at this University, but across the nation. The high regard in which he is held by his academic colleagues further reveals the full measure of his contributions.

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this Commencement Program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. The University's Official Registry for Conferral of Degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of Registration, Records, and Scheduling, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status.

To Our New Alumni

You may not notice the difference. But today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. You don't look different, but right now you may be experiencing a feeling of excitement, anticipation, and a great desire to celebrate. For you, one era has passed; another is about to begin.

From the six alumni who experienced the first Commencement in 1878 to the thousands who make up today's Ohio State University Alumni Association, our organized efforts have galvanized energies, ideas, and enthusiasm into greater good for Alma Mater.

As an alumnus, you are a member of the Buckeye family and a partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

Today, and later, you may ask what you can do for the University. There seems to be general agreement on four areas where alumni can provide significant assistance: recruiting of new and highly qualified students; representing Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements; participating financially through the Development Fund; and working in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a congratulatory year's free membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to our award-winning alumni magazine, The Monthly. Devoted to the task of helping you keep in touch with our exciting pursuit of human excellence, the alumni magazine will also help you maintain an update on your friends and colleagues.

To you, your families, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our congratulations. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference.

Summer's heat or winter's cold
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.
The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonials of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics as well, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings made caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods a necessity for warmth. Probably because of the costumes' religious heritage, they remained drab until the universities gradually began to pass from the control of the Church, whereupon some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. However, old prints and engravings reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and the academic costume worn today.

In light of our nation's strong English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity with regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed which prepared a code for caps, gowns, and hoods which has been adopted by all institutions. Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the more familiar mortarboard square—a shape which ballad folklore suggests resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress which might indicate rank or social strata. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctor's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor Black, with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor Three feet in length with a two-inch-wide velvet.
Master Three and one-half feet in length with a three-inch-wide velvet.
Doctor Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution from which the degree was received. The color of the velvet indicates the field in which the doctoral was granted:

For Dentistry Lilac
For Law Purple
For Medicine Green
For Musical Arts Pink
For Optometry Sea-Foam Green
For Philosophy Dark Blue
For Veterinary Medicine Gray

Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel the color of which is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School
College of the Arts Black
(B.F.A.) White
School of Music Brown
College of Biological Sciences Pink
College of Humanities White

College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences White
School of Journalism Crimson
College of Administrative Science Drab
School of Public Administration Peacock Blue
College of Agriculture and Home Economics Maize
School of Home Economics Maroon
School of Natural Resources Maize
College of Dentistry Lilac
College of Education Light Blue
School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Sage Green
College of Engineering Orange
School of Architecture Orange
College of Law Purple
College of Medicine Green
School of Allied Medical Professions Green
School of Nursing Apricot
College of Optometry Sea-Foam Green
College of Pharmacy Olive Green
College of Social Work Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.
