Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio
Graduates and guests led by
David Lawrence Dennis Jr.
Class of 1982

Oh! come let’s sing Ohio’s praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer’s heat and Winter’s cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Commencement Speaker

Dr. John Peter Minton

Doctor John Peter Minton has earned four degrees from The Ohio State University: a bachelor of science in 1956, a doctor of medicine in 1960, a master of medical science in surgery in 1966, and a doctorate in microbiology in 1969. He was certified by the American Board of Surgery in 1969 and has been a licensed practicing physician in the state of Ohio since 1960. Throughout his career, Dr. Minton has been in the forefront of cancer research and treatment. He pioneered laser cancer research as early as 1963. As the American Cancer Society Professor of Clinical Oncology at Ohio State, he is an active and innovative cancer practitioner. His major areas of clinical investigation involve primary and secondary breast and colon cancers, metastatic liver cancer, and melanoma. He served as clinical associate at the National Cancer Institute and as Clinical Cancer Fellow at the American Cancer Society. The winner of the Mead Johnson Award for Graduate Training in Surgery, he is also the recipient of many other awards for teaching, research, and practice. Dr. Minton is a member of many honoraries and professional associations—including the American Medical Association, the Royal Society of Health, the Societe Internationale de Chirurgie, and the American College of Surgeons. An eminent teacher, an internationally recognized leader in his field, and a gifted speaker, he has distinguished himself and this University through his life and work, and his record of achievement cannot be done justice in these brief remarks. The University takes special pride in having one of its most distinguished alumni address the graduates of this its 281st commencement.
Recipients of Honors

John Wilson Black
Doctor of Humane Letters

Dr. John Black’s many contributions to the development of speech and hearing science have enriched his profession and have brought him national and international recognition as a scholar and a researcher. For over fifty years he has conducted research on the understanding of the speech process and on hearing disorders, as well as extensive studies of children’s ethnic speech patterns. Dr. Black has been selected as an international consultant for his expertise on industrial noise and its effects, and he directed the Army Air Force Voice Communication Laboratory during World War II. The Presidential citation he received for this work is only one of many he has been given in recognition of his unique capabilities. A scholar and researcher for over fifty years, he has earned a reputation as a highly effective teacher, and many of his students have achieved national reputations as scholars, teachers, and administrators. Dr. Black is a prolific author, having written seven books and published over 100 articles in professional journals. A Fulbright Scholar, he is also a fellow of the National Science Foundation and an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa. The University is privileged to honor Dr. Black for his many contributions to speech and hearing science and to higher education.

Russell W. Peterson
Doctor of Humane Letters

Dr. Russell Peterson, the president of the National Audubon Society, is a nationally recognized scientist and environmentalist. A businessman, community leader, former state governor, and federal executive, he has a unique combination of skills that have brought him national recognition in both the public and the private sectors. After receiving his Ph.D. in chemistry from Harvard University in 1942, he began his business career with the Du Pont Company. He served for 26 years in research, development, production, and sales and then ran for and won the office of governor of Delaware. As governor, he was responsible for numerous innovations in the structure of that state’s government. A committed environmentalist, Dr. Peterson served as chairman of the U.S. Council on Environmental Quality and was a board director of the U.S. Association for The Club of Rome and of the World Wildlife Fund. He founded New Directions, a citizen’s group that lobbies on global issues. His numerous awards include the World Wildlife Fund Gold Medal, the American Academy of Achievement Golden Plate Award, and the National Wildlife Federation’s Conservationist of the Year Award. Dr. Peterson reflects both the scope and direction of informed leadership that Ohio State seeks to inculcate in its student body. The University community takes great pride in bestowing upon Dr. Peterson its highest honor for his outstanding efforts at making our world a better place in which to live.
George Ledyard Stebbins
Doctor of Science

Professor G. L. Stebbins is one of the world's leading authorities on the evolution of plants. He has extensively researched the evolutionary processes in natural populations and the origin of species of plants native to California, as well as certain cereals and grasses of economic importance. His book, Variation and Evolution in Plants, published in 1950, demonstrated how genetics and chromosomal variation apply to plant evolution. This book has guided plant geneticists, evolutionists, and plant breeders throughout the world. He has written five other books and published numerous articles. Since joining the faculty of the University of California, Professor Stebbins has taught both graduate and undergraduate students and has recently developed courses that combine the study of biology and the liberal arts. In recognition of his excellent teaching skills, he was awarded a Distinguished Teaching Award by the University of California, Davis. Professor Stebbins' knowledge of plant evolution and the plant distribution and native habitats of California has enabled him to serve as an effective spokesman for the preservation of important natural areas in the state. A graduate of Harvard University, he was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1954 and again in 1960. Professor Stebbins is a member of many honoraries and learned societies, including the National Academy of Science, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the American Philosophical Society. In bestowing this honor, the University seeks to recognize Professor Stebbins for his longstanding commitment to his community, to his profession, and to higher education in general.
As a new graduate, you will receive a year's free membership in The Ohio State University Alumni Association. Included is a subscription to the Ohio State alumni magazine, which will keep you informed of the University's continued pursuit of excellence and also help you keep an update on your friends and classmates.

You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. You don't look different, but right now you may be experiencing a feeling of excitement, anticipation, and a great desire to celebrate. For you, one era has passed, another is about to begin.

As an alumnus, you are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

Today, and later, you may ask what you can do for the University. There seems to be general agreement on four areas where alumni can provide significant assistance: recruiting of new and highly qualified students; representing Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements; participating financially through the Development Fund; and working in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

To you, your families, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our congratulations. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference.

Graduates with Honors

Criteria for graduation with honors are as follows:

With Distinction requires successful completion of a Senior Honors Thesis, oral examination, and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

With Honors in the Liberal Arts requires successful completion of the arts and Sciences Honors Contract and graduation in the top 25% of the class.
Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 10% of the class (top 6% in the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences).

Summa Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 3% of the class (top 1.5% in the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences).

With Distinction in Agricultural Economics

This program is an unofficial graduation list
While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferred of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of Registration, Records, and Scheduling, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics as well, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings made caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods a necessity for warmth. Probably because of the costumes' religious heritage, they remained drab until the universities gradually began to pass from the control of the Church, whereupon some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. However, old prints and engravings reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and the academic costume worn today.

In light of our nation's strong English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity with regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed which prepared a code for caps, gowns, and hoods, which has been adopted by all institutions. Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the more familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress which might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctor's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor  Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master  Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor  Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor  Three feet in length with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Master  Three and one-half feet in length with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Doctor  Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution from which the degree was received. The color of the velvet indicates the field in which the doctoral was granted:

Dentistry  Lilac
Law  Purple
Medicine  Green
Musical Arts  Pink
Optometry  Sea-Foam Green
Philosophy  Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine  Gray

*Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel the color of which is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School  Black
College of the Arts  Brown
(B.F.A.)
School of Music  Pink
College of Biological Sciences  White
College of Humanities  White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences  White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences  White
School of Journalism  Crimson
College of Administrative Science  Drab
School of Public Administration  Peacock Blue
College of Agriculture and Home Economics  Maize
School of Home Economics  Maroon
School of Natural Resources  Maize
College of Dentistry  Lilac
College of Education  Light Blue
School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation  Sage Green
