Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio
Graduates and guests led by
John Robin Rice
Assistant Professor
School of Music

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Commencement Address

Lena Bailey

Lena Bailey was named dean of The Ohio State University College of Human Ecology in 1984, a year after the School of Home Economics was elevated to college status. She served as acting director of the school from 1982 to 1983 and as the school's associate director for academic affairs from 1980 to 1982.

A native of Pike County, Kentucky, Dr. Bailey received a bachelor of science degree in home economics education from Morehead State University in Kentucky in 1954, a master of science degree from the University of Kentucky in 1958, and a doctorate in higher education from The Ohio State University in 1969.

Dr. Bailey is an international leader in her field, consulting with universities from Rhode Island to Minnesota and with colleagues in France and Norway. In 1975, she directed a teacher training project for the Iranian government and has spent time in the Dominican Republic, Kenya, and Turkey.

Dr. Bailey's professional activities are extensive, including service on the board of the American Home Economics Association; the Association of Administrators of Home Economics; and the Ohio Home Economics Association, of which she is president.

An energetic and committed member of the University community, Dr. Bailey has held positions on a number of committees, including the Commission of Dependent Care and the Athletic Council. She currently is a member of the Internal Advisory Committee, the Comprehensive Cancer Center and Cancer Hospital Research Institute; and the Nisonger Center Policy Council.

Her many honors include Ohio State's William H. Watson, Jr. Memorial Award, presented for her contributions to equal educational opportunities for all students. In 1985, the American Home Economics Association named her an Outstanding Leader. She is a National Honorary Member of Mortar Board and a member of the University of Kentucky College of Education Hall of Fame.

Ohio State is proud to welcome a distinguished educator and committed friend to students, who has given service to her University and the global community, as speaker for the University's 318th commencement.
Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you’ve become an alumnus. For you, one era has passed, another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the University in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today’s students for tomorrow’s citizenship.

We extend to you a year’s complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year’s subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the University’s continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

C. William Swank

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation’s English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar’s book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*
Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.
* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree.
The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

| Dentistry | Lilac |
| Law | Purple |
| Medicine | Green |
| Musical Arts | Pink |
| Optometry | Sea-foam Green |
| Pharmacy | Olive Green |
| Philosophy | Dark Blue |
| Veterinary Medicine | Gray |
