Class of 1986
Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat and Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship — Ohio.

Commencement Speaker

Leslie H. Wexner
Doctor of Humanities

Leslie H. Wexner is the founder, president, and chairman of the board of The Limited, Incorporated, the nation's largest women's specialty apparel retailer with more than 2,400 stores and sales of more than $2.4 billion in 1985. Wexner earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Ohio State in 1959 and studied law at the University for two years. He began The Limited in 1963 with one store, located in Columbus' Kingsdale Shopping Center.

An active and loyal alumnus of Ohio State, Wexner serves as chair of the board of directors of The Ohio State University Foundation, a group of prominent alumni and friends of the University that oversee major private fund-raising activities. Wexner provided significant early impetus to the University's current $350 million private fund-raising campaign last autumn when he announced his gift of $10 million to his alma mater—the largest gift ever received from a living individual. The gift is in support of the widely acclaimed Ohio State University Center for the Visual Arts. The $26 million facility will be known as "The Wexner Center for the Visual Arts," dedicated to the memory of Wexner's late father, Harry L. Wexner. Leslie Wexner is also a member of The Presidents Club and the College of Business Advisory Council.

A long-time patron of the arts, Wexner is a trustee of the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, and the Columbus Museum of Art. He is a director of Banc One Corporation and a director and member of the executive committee of Sotheby's Holdings Inc. A champion of his hometown of Columbus, he has been extremely active in promoting the growth and economic vitality of this community. He is a trustee of the Capital South Community Urban Redevelopment Corporation. He also is active in local and national Jewish organizations, serving on the executive committee of the Columbus Jewish Federation; as vice-chairman and trustee of Agudas Achim Synagogue; and as national vice-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal and co-chairman of its International committee.

The Ohio State University is proud to count him among its distinguished alumni and to honor him today for his achievements, as well as for his vision of the future.
Recipients of Honors

Berenice Abbott
Doctor of Humane Letters

Berenice Abbott is recognized internationally as one of the leading American photographers of the twentieth century. Born in Springfield, Ohio, she graduated from high school in Cleveland and attended Ohio State for a brief period in 1917-18. She left Ohio State for New York and then on to Paris and Berlin to study photography. After serving as an assistant to photographer Man Ray, she opened her first photo studio in Paris in 1926. During her years in Paris, she photographed many of the most notable artistic and political figures of the era. She also began her efforts to preserve the work of the French photographer Eugene Atget.

Returning to New York in 1929, Abbott began to document the city’s people, architecture, and other aspects of its life. Supported in part by the Federal Arts Project of the Works Progress Administration in 1935-38, this work led to a book, Changing New York, that has been hailed as the premier photographic record of New York in the 1930s. (Thirteen prints from this series are held in the permanent art collection at Ohio State.) Later in her career, Abbott’s interest in scientific phenomena led her to photographically illustrate a wide variety of scientific principles such as magnetism, motion, and gravity. This body of work added to her already substantial acclaim.

While continuing her work as a photographer, Abbott has been an active teacher and has written books and articles ranging from artistic criticism to explanation of photographic techniques. She has received many honors, including the distinction of being the first photographer to be inducted as a member of the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters.

Abbott has been hailed by historians as well as admirers for her efforts to document the great changes that have occurred in society during her lifetime. That documentation has resulted in a priceless and timeless legacy for future generations. The Ohio State University is proud to recognize the distinguished career of this extremely talented artist.

Charles W. Fries
Doctor of Arts

During his career of more than 30 years in television and film, Charles W. Fries of Cincinnati has acquired a reputation as a man of great skill and sensitivity. After receiving a bachelor’s degree in business from Ohio State in 1950, he joined the financial operations area of a production company. He quickly moved into production, eventually holding top positions at Screen Gems, Columbia Pictures, and Metromedia Producers Corporation. In 1974, he founded his independent company, Fries Entertainment, Inc., which has multiple interests in the production and distribution of films for television and the theatre.

Fries has produced more than 75 films for television, many dealing with issues of national importance. A sampling of such productions includes Intimate Strangers (1977), about spousal abuse; A Cry for Love (1980), dealing with pill addiction; and Bitter Harvest (1981), dramatizing the chemical poisoning of farmlands. He also has brought about film biographies of Louis Armstrong, Francis Gary Powers, the Wright Brothers, Humphrey Bogart, and Medgar Evers. Miniseries developed under his supervision have included The Martian Chronicles, The Word, and The Trial of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Fries is also active in the promotion of quality and responsibility in entertainment. He is past chairman and presently a member of the Steering Committee of the Caucus of Producers, Writers and Directors, a group that attempts to make film and television more responsive to social issues. Fries has also been a member of the board of governors and executive committee of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Fries has devoted time and energy to charitable and service organizations including the City of Hope Hospital, the Fund for Higher Education, the NAACP, the Neighbors of Watts, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the InterAgency Council on Child Abuse and Neglect.

Currently, Fries serves on the advisory committee of the Department of Photography and Cinema at Ohio State. The University is proud to honor this creative and influential alumnus.
Recipients of Honors

Donald E. Osterbrock
Doctor of Science

Cincinnati native Donald E. Osterbrock is regarded as one of the world's great astronomers. His research and observations on several important areas of astronomy and astrophysics have had a lasting and far-reaching influence on the field. Osterbrock has come to be regarded as a leading expert on gaseous nebulae and active galactic nuclei. Several of his books and articles have become standard references, used widely in graduate courses and by researchers around the world. He has also written books and articles on the history of astronomy, including two biographies of important early astronomers.

Osterbrock received his undergraduate and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Chicago. He has been an astronomer and faculty member at Princeton University, the California Institute of Technology, the University of Wisconsin, and since 1973 at the University of California at Santa Cruz, where he also served as director of the Lick Observatory until 1981. He has been a visiting faculty member at the University of Minnesota and at Ohio State, and twice has received Guggenheim Fellowships to the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

Osterbrock's honors include his election to the National Academy of Sciences, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the Royal Astronomical Society. He has also held leadership positions in professional organizations, including service as president of the International Astronomical Union Commission 34 on Interstellar Matter and Planetary Nebulae, chairman of the National Academy of Sciences Section of Astronomy, and chairman of the University Research Association Astronomy Committee.

Beyond his professional interests, he is a member of the Nature Conservancy, the National Wildlife Federation, and the Santa Cruz Bird Club.

Osterbrock has had a strong interest in Ohio State for many years, and has visited on several occasions to lecture and to work with faculty and graduate students. The University is very pleased to honor this distinguished teacher and scholar.

Richard P. Anderson
Distinguished Service Award

Richard P. Anderson of Maumee is managing partner of The Andersons, an agribusiness partnership with gross sales exceeding $1 billion annually. For more than 35 years, the firm has generously supported Ohio State's College of Agriculture and its related units—the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center (OARDC), the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service, and the Agricultural Technical Institute. This support has included substantial monetary contributions as well as scholarships, internships, and access to company records for student research.

In 1965, the Andersons established the Andersons Agricultural Research Fund with a major gift to the University. Since that time, income from the gift has provided the resources for a grain-quality research project of national proportions. In 1975, The Andersons enabled the University to become a Community Partner in the firm and to share in its profits. In recognition of this generosity, Anderson is a member of The Presidents Club and The Presidents Council—Ohio State's major donor recognition organizations. He is a member of the National Campaign Committee for the current Ohio State University Campaign.

Anderson has also expended vast amounts of time and energy on behalf of the University. He has served two terms as chairperson of the OARDC Support Council, which encourages increased budgetary support from state and federal governments. Anderson has led a delegation of council members to the Statehouse in Columbus and to Washington, D.C. for the past six years. He has also made the expertise of many other people in his company available to serve on college advisory committees.

Anderson is an active business and civic leader. His board memberships include the Toledo Edison Company, St. Luke's Hospital, Lucas County Children Services, the Toledo Museum of Art, and the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. Anderson received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture, magna cum laude, from Michigan State University in 1953. Three of his sons have graduated from Ohio State.

The Ohio State University proudly honors this dedicated and generous individual with the Distinguished Service Award.

This program is not an official graduation list.

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master. Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.∗
Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.∗
Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:
