Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Graduates and guests led by Cheryl A. Hoover
Class of 1988

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Commencement Speaker

Erich Bloch

Doctor of Science and Engineering

Erich Bloch is director of the National Science Foundation (NSF), the federal agency responsible for strengthening our nation's scientific and engineering research and education capabilities. He has held that position since his 1984 confirmation by the U.S. Senate and oversees an annual budget of $1.7 billion. During his three years of leadership, the NSF has emerged as a major force in helping our nation regain its competitive edge in science and technology.

After receiving his degree in electrical engineering from the University of Buffalo in 1952, he began work at IBM in what was then the new field of computer research. His contributions were major factors in IBM's emergence as a leader in the computer industry, and he had risen to the position of vice president for technical personnel development before he left for the NSF.

Under Bloch's direction, the NSF established several innovative programs that have had significant impact on higher education and the American science community. Among these programs are the engineering research centers at various universities, which are strengthening the United States' competitive technological base. Ohio State is the site of one of these centers—the Engineering Research Center for Net Shape Manufacturing.

He also has garnered unprecedented support from the White House for a plan to double the NSF budget. These additional funds will be used primarily to enhance the academic enterprise across the country.

Ohio State welcomes him as speaker for this 304th commencement and is proud to confer upon him an honorary degree.

Recipients of Honors

Philip Johnson Doctor of Arts

Architect, historian, and critic Philip Johnson has had considerable influence on the profession of architecture. While he is credited with bringing Modernism to America, his career has been marked by a refusal to limit his work to a single style.

A native of Cleveland, Johnson earned his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Architecture degrees from Harvard University and attended the Harvard Graduate School of Design.

As director of the Department of Architecture at the Museum of Modern Art during the 1930s, he curated important shows and contributed to books that introduced Modernism to the public. He also encouraged noted European architects to settle in this country.

Johnson used Modernism throughout much of his career and designed some of the greatest American Modernist buildings. Most notable are his Glass House, built in 1949 and one of the best known works of architecture in the world, and the Seagram's Building (co-designed with architect Mies van der Rohe) in 1954-58.

He eventually integrated other design elements as well. For example, he reintroduced decoration into many projects, established a strong connection with Minimalist sculpture, and ultimately broke with Modernism altogether and returned to historical allusions in architectural design. Today his buildings can be found in most major cities in a variety of contexts across the country.

The importance of his work has been widely recognized—among his awards are the 1978 Gold Medal from the American Institute of Architecture and the first Pritzker Architecture Prize, instituted in 1979. The University is pleased at the opportunity to honor him for a lifetime of distinguished achievement.

Roy Lichtenstein Doctor of Fine Arts

Artist Roy Lichtenstein, an Ohio State alumnus, has attained great distinction as a scholar and master of contemporary art. His work is represented in nearly every major collection of modern art, both nationally and internationally.

He earned his Bachelor and Master of Fine Arts degrees at Ohio State and then spent 13 years painting and working as a graphic and engineering draftsman, window designer, and sheet metal designer. He also taught at several institutions including Ohio State, the New York State College of Education, and Rutgers University.

The turning point in his career was his first solo exhibition in 1962 at the Leo Castelli Gallery in New York City. From that time on, he devoted himself full time to artmaking, becoming a major force in the Pop Art movement and drawing inspiration from comic strips and advertisements, as well as art history itself.

He has received innumerable awards, commissions, and grants, has held international solo exhibitions, and in 1970 was elected to the American Institute of Arts and Letters. Among his recent works are Mural With Blue Brushstroke, in New York City, which was written about in a 1986 issue of LIFE magazine; Salute to Painting, at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis; and Brushstrokes in Flight, at Port Columbus International Airport. The University welcomes him back as a distinguished alumnus and takes pride in his professional accomplishment.

Recipients of Honors

Toni Mendez Distinguished Service Award

Toni Mendez, now president of her own New York literary and licensing agency, began her career as a dancer and choreographer. She created several shows in conjunction with newspaper cartoonists—projects which proved to be a segue into her present agency work.

She has represented not only individuals but also publishing companies, newspaper syndicates, and government agencies in book and licensing projects. Among her highly successful projects in television, print, and licensing are Space Cadet, Milton Caniff's Steve Canyon, B. Kliban's Cat, and the federal government's Smokey the Bear program. Her television projects include working with Norman Lear's production company, Tandem, on the television series All in the Family.

While not an alumna, she has been very involved with Ohio State and has given generously of her time, talent, and resources to the University. In 1977, Mendez was instrumental in establishing Ohio State's Library for Communication and Graphic Arts. Since then she has added her papers to the collection—papers that reveal the inner workings of the comics publishing and merchandising industry.

Mendez was a charter member of the National Campaign Committee for The Ohio State University Campaign, helped plan the University's Festival of Cartoon Art, and has been a guest lecturer for advanced-level fiction writing classes. She has also encouraged support for the University in artistic, literary, and media circles in New York and across the country. Ohio State is indeed indebted to her for her enthusiastic and innovative support.

Congratulations and Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. For you, one era has passed, another is about to begin.

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the University in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the University's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, OH 43210-1230.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an inter-collegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

*Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:
