POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate

(Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head, not to mention a funny robe, full of music—poems and melodies, the tunes we move to, shower and shave by, study, write to. Not just the incidental, but the momentous music keeping time. Our histories are measures of song. Listen to your heart: drums of Africa, sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often, music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Bohème, Sono un poeta. I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school. In my head I press Play, and the CD of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger over moments too sweet, nearly, for words. I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery. Up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents of Cleveland. Gaudemus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were. Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades. Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King (King of what, fried butter sandwiches?) who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine.

As with those pros and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—kill some rabbits—to earn respect. And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford, "Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o. My grandfather was a peasant farmer, a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. Lucky, lucky, lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gum. I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours, That leaves eight hours for fun.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere, or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even, President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport. You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing. You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing with the diversity of us. Diversity. Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us, precious difference, the grand multiplicity of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago. Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles! My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history. Now you, graduates, are being honored—by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State. Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio, in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing with pleasure or bathed in the blues. We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul. Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park, and you searched our dark, ancient library for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first "Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help but feel, as is the sweet mother I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay. So many of us would not be here were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs. Some are here today in the flesh. Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song. When we sing to others, we honor our fathers and mothers, thank them for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater. Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help. Well, Mother, we love you, but, like, it's time we moved out, got a place of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet from crying. We won't forget you. Now, even though this ceremony means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day, Summer's heat, and winter's cold, The seasons pass, the years will roll, Time and change will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score. Continue to work hard for yourselves, and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world. Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn our ancestors collaborated on with us, the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

John S. McCain

John S. McCain was elected to the United States Senate in 1986 and is currently the senior senator from Arizona. He is chair of the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs and serves on the Armed Services Committee and the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee.

The son and grandson of Navy admirals, Senator McCain followed in their footsteps, enrolling in the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis at the age of 17. Following his graduation in 1958, he was commissioned an ensign in the Navy and trained to become an aircraft carrier pilot. In 1967, Lt. Commander McCain was assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal off the coast of Vietnam. After an explosion on board, he survived a devastating fire that took 134 lives. Just three months after the Forrestal disaster, his plane departed the USS Oriskany and was hit by a missile during a bombing mission over Hanoi. He ejected, landing close to the bombing target. He was captured, severely beaten, and taken to the infamous "Hanoi Hilton," where he remained a prisoner of war for five and a half years.

In 1973, after the Vietnam War ended, Senator McCain and nearly 600 POWs returned home, ending the longest incarceration in U.S. history. After extensive rehabilitation, he regained his flight status. His last duty assignment was as the Navy's liaison to the U.S. Senate.

He began his political career in 1982, winning election to Congress, representing what was then the first congressional district in Arizona. When Barry Goldwater announced his retirement from the Senate in 1986, Senator McCain was elected to succeed him. Now in his third term in the Senate, he was re-elected in November 1998 with nearly 70 percent of the vote. In 2000, he ran unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for president.

His political objectives include making government smaller and more fiscally responsible. He campaigns against wasteful spending in Washington and opposes using Social Security funds to pay for new government programs. He is a strong advocate for reform in campaign and lobbying laws.

Ohio State welcomes this distinguished statesman as he addresses today's graduating class.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Alan J. Heeger

Doctor of Science

Alan J. Heeger, a Nobel laureate, is professor of physics and professor of materials (engineering) at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

A native of Iowa, Professor Heeger received his B.S. with high distinction in mathematics and physics in 1957 from the University of Nebraska and his Ph.D. in 1961 from the University of California at Berkeley. He began his academic career in 1962 at the University of Pennsylvania, becoming full professor in 1967 and serving as director of the university's Laboratory for Research on the Structure of Matter from 1974 to 1981.

While at the University of Pennsylvania, he began working with Alan MacDiarmid, a professor of chemistry at Penn, and Hideki Shirakawa, a visiting scientist from Japan. The three researchers discovered that plastics can be made to conduct electricity, creating a completely new approach to science and technology. The group's discovery resulted in their being awarded the 2000 Nobel Prize in Chemistry.

In 1982, Professor Heeger joined the faculty at the University of California at Santa Barbara where he served as director of the university's Institute for Polymers and Organic Solids from 1982 to 1999. With his colleagues at UCSB, he is doing pioneering research in the area of highly conductive polymer solids. The group's current mission is to create a new generation of low-cost solar cells ready for commercialization.

Professor Heeger has long been aware of the potential for technology transfer of electronic polymers to the market place, and in 1990 he founded UNIAX Corporation in order to focus on technological applications. UNIAX has since been sold to a major corporation, and Professor Heeger serves as chief scientist and chair of the board. He continues to research areas touching on medicine and health care.

He has more than 750 scholarly publications and more than 50 patents to his name. His many honors include the Oliver Buckley Prize for Condensed Matter Physics in 1983, the 1989 John Scott Award, and the Balzan Prize for Science of New Materials in 1995. In 2001 he delivered The Ohio State University Department of Physics Alpheus Smith Lecture.

Alan G. MacDiarmid

Doctor of Science

Nobel laureate Alan G. MacDiarmid holds the James Von Ehr Distinguished Chair in Science and Technology and is professor of chemistry and physics at the University of Texas at Dallas. In addition, he holds the Blanchard Chair in Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania and has been appointed professor of chemistry at Jilin University in Changchun, China.

A native of New Zealand, Professor MacDiarmid studied at the University of New Zealand before coming to the University of Wisconsin in 1950 on a Fulbright Fellowship. He received his Ph.D. at Wisconsin and did further study at the University of Cambridge, U.K., before joining the University of Pennsylvania faculty in 1955, where he was named Blanchard Professor of Chemistry in 1988. He began his concurrent appointment at the University of Texas at Dallas in 2004.

During the 1970s, he began collaborative research with Alan Heeger and Hideki Shirakawa at Penn, resulting in the historic discovery of metallic conductivity in an organic polymer and establishing the field of electronic polymers or plastics. In 2000, these collaborators received the Nobel Prize in Chemistry for their pioneering research.

Professor MacDiarmid's scientific interests are centered around technologically important conducting polymers and their use in conducting polymer nanofibers, and he is investigating inexpensive, disposable plastic and paper electronic circuits. He has recently expanded his activities to include carbon nanotubes as possible analogs of conducting polymers.

His most recent research has created electronic organic fibers with a diameter of ~ 4 nanometers. His objective is to combine the fields of electronic organic polymers and electronic nanofibers to develop a new field of "nanoelectronics."

Professor MacDiarmid is the author or coauthor of more than 600 research papers and approximately 25 patents. He is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Frederic Stanley Kipping Award in 1970, the Chemical Pioneer Award from the American Institute of Chemists in 1984, the "Top 100" Innovation Awards from Science Digest in 1985, the 2001 International Scientist of the Year from the International Biographic Centre in Cambridge, and the 2002 Nichols Medal Award from the American Chemical Society.

Barbara K. Fergus

Distinguished Service Award

Barbara K. Fergus is owner/partner of Midwestern Auto Group of Dublin and a community activist and philanthropist.

A 1957 graduate of the now Fisher College of Business at The Ohio State University, Barbara Fergus has been an active advocate for a wide variety of programs and initiatives at her alma mater. She has been a loyal supporter of the university's John Glenn Institute for Public Service and Public Policy since its inception, playing a leading role in the institute's NEW Leadership Ohio program, designed to encourage young women to run for political office. To celebrate her birthday and her commitment to social change, her friends established the Barbara K. Fergus Women in Leadership Lecture Series at the institute.

As a tireless supporter of the arts, she has publicly promoted the College of the Arts and the university itself among social, professional, and philanthropic groups, encouraging involvement and partnerships. Barbara Fergus has helped support the College of the Arts Advanced Computing Center for the Arts and Design's Women in Technology Program, both with her own funding and her advice and influence with other funding institutions. The two-week summer program mentors young women in arts and technology.

Her other wide-ranging university activities include support for women's basketball scholarships, the Fisher College of Business Leadership Symposium, the Wexner Center for the Arts, and University Libraries. She has been a member of the National Major Gift Committee in Columbus, Humanities Development Council, Friends of the Libraries board, and Partners for the Arts. She is also a recipient of the university's Gerlach Award for outstanding development volunteer work.

A committed community volunteer as well, Barbara Fergus has been affiliated with the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, BalletMet, the Columbus Museum of Art, the Jazz Arts Group, and the Franklin Park Conservatory. As one of the founders of The Women's Fund of Central Ohio, she is devoted to establishing equity and financial parity for women and girls. As a board member of The Academy for Leadership and Governance of The Jefferson Center, she works to identify, nurture, and encourage future administrators in all facets of the arts.

Ernest W. Johnson

Distinguished Service Award

Ernest W. Johnson is professor emeritus in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in The Ohio State University College of Medicine. Widely regarded as a pioneering leader in the discipline of physical medicine and rehabilitation, Dr. Johnson has long been an advocate for improving the lives of the physically challenged.

After 43 months of service in the U.S. Army's Quartermaster Corps during World War II, Dr. Johnson enrolled at Ohio State on the G.I. Bill, receiving his B.A. in 1948 and his M.D. cum laude in 1952. Following graduation, he was a fellow on the polio ward at Columbus Children's Hospital.

He joined the faculty of Ohio State's College of Medicine in 1954 as an instructor in the Department of Anatomy. In 1959 he became director of the Division of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, and, in 1963, chair of the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. He was in the forefront of the independent-living movement, leading a successful campaign to establish Ohio State's Creative Living Center, a facility designed to enable physically handicapped individuals to live and function independently. The program's success soon required construction of a second independent-living facility on Ohio State's campus. Dr. Johnson challenged architects to develop barrier-free buildings, especially on campus.

His years of leadership as chair of the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and his nationally recognized and successful program in Dodd Hall, the university's rehabilitation hospital, led to continuous recognition of this program in U.S. News & World Report.

During the 1980s, Dr. Johnson served as consultant to a committee reviewing smoking policy on Ohio State's campus, which led to a smoking ban in classrooms and offices and, eventually, in Ohio Stadium and St. John Arena. He was editor of The College of Medicine Journal for 40 years, writing many editorials on the dangers of smoking.

Dr. Johnson serves as vice president of the board of trustees of the Roosevelt-Warm Springs Foundation and on the board of directors of Creative Living. He is a past president of the American Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and the Association of Academic Physiatrists. In 1990, his colleagues honored him with the prestigious Henry B. Betts Award, presented by the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago, and, in 1988, he received Ohio State's Affirmative Action Award.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS GIFT PROGRAM

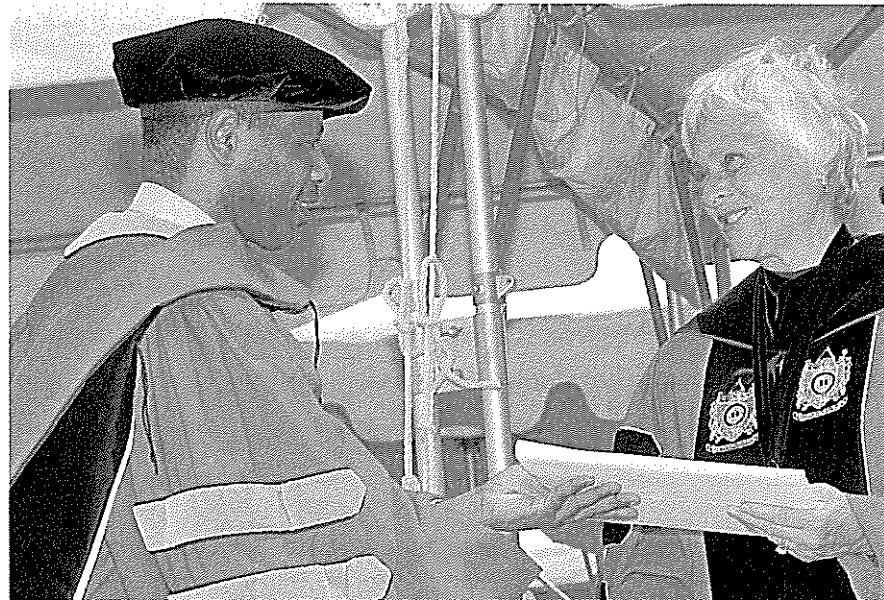

Since 1891, graduating seniors have celebrated their class commencement by making a gift to Ohio State. This gift is a special way for students to commemorate their time spent at Ohio State and a way to support future students at the university.

The Class of 2006 will continue the tradition of leaving a lasting legacy on campus by replacing the benches on the Oval. This gift will enhance the experience of students who enjoy the Oval every day.

The Student Campaign Advisory Board encourages all graduating seniors to make a gift of $20.06 to help replace the benches on the Oval, or to any other project that they feel passionate about at Ohio State. Students can make their gift online at www.studentcampaign.osu.edu.

We congratulate the Class of 2006 today and thank them for continuing the tradition of support at The Ohio State University.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencement derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—

a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

INCLEMENT WEATHER

In the case of inclement weather, every effort will be made to hold commencement as planned.

Commencement will take place in Ohio Stadium, unless weather conditions are dangerous or severe, in which case the ceremony will be canceled. No indoor facility on campus can accommodate the graduating class and 35,000 guests.

On commencement day, Ohio State officials will be in continuous contact with the National Weather Service to monitor approaching weather. If it is feasible to delay the start of the ceremony and wait for clearing or less severe weather, the start of the ceremony may be delayed up to one hour. Should this happen, any changes will be announced on-site to graduates and guests. Graduates will remain in French Field House; guests are asked to remain in protected areas of Ohio Stadium. Your patience and cooperation will help facilitate this plan.

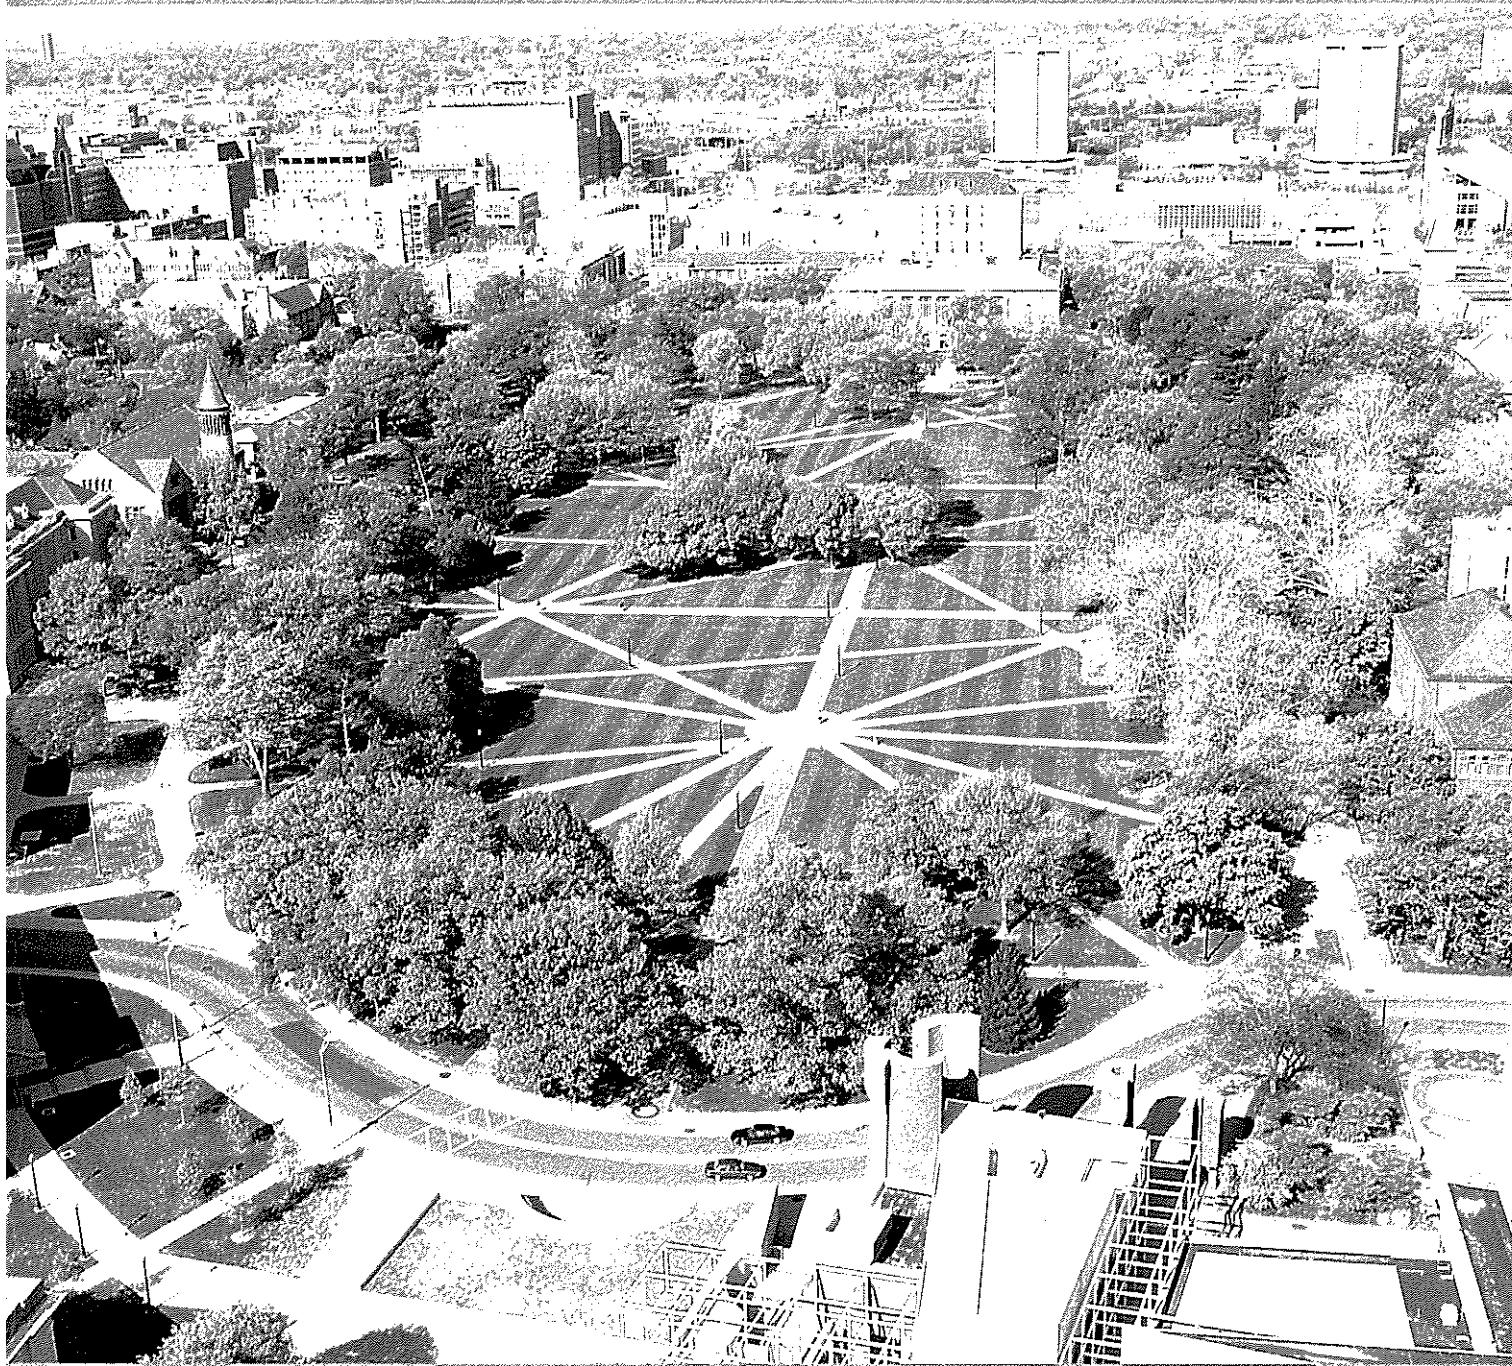

In case of cancellation

If it is determined that severe weather will not permit us to hold commencement, the ceremony will be canceled. Once cancellation has been announced, graduates should report to the following locations one hour after cancellation to receive their diplomas.

It is strongly advised that graduates and guests prearrange a meeting place in case the ceremony is canceled. Guests should not go to French Field House where most diplomas will be distributed to graduates. St. John Arena, Larkins Hall, Drake Center, and various locations on West Lane Avenue are some suggested meeting sites.

Diplomas will remain in the following locations until 6 p.m. on commencement day. Diplomas not picked up by 6 p.m. will be taken to the University Registrar's office in 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive. Diplomas will be available for pick-up there between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., June 12-23. If a graduate's diploma remains unclaimed after June 23, it will be mailed to the home address on record within two to four weeks of commencement. Graduates can verify their mailing addresses by contacting the University Registrar's web site at www.ureg.ohio-state.edu. Click on "current student," then "change address."
