The Recipients of the Distinguished Service Award

CHARLES H. COOK
A devoted friend of this University, Charles Cook has made outstanding contributions to its growth and development, particularly at our Lima Campus. As co-chairman of the Lima Campus fund raising committee, he worked to establish this vital link between higher education and the Lima community. His belief in Ohio State as an institution of excellence has encouraged exceptional students to pursue their academic and athletic talents in her halls and on her playing fields, bringing honor to her name through their achievements. The Ohio State University recognizes his dedication by conferring upon Charles H. Cook the Distinguished Service Award.

ROBERT S. DORSEY
An innovator and community-minded man, a well-rounded athlete and scholar, Robert Dorsey possesses technical ability equalled only by his humanitarian qualities. He has devoted long hours to his profession where he is noted as an expert in computer simulation. Giving generously of his leisure time he has tutored underprivileged youths, and imparted his leadership to his alma mater, Ohio State, as a member of its Board of Trustees, assisting in our efforts to provide equality of opportunity to all. The Ohio State University recognizes his dedication by conferring upon Robert S. Dorsey the Distinguished Service Award.

J. WESLEY LEAS
A scientist and loyal alumnus, J. Wesley Leas has maintained an active interest in the betterment of The Ohio State University. His leadership on the Alumni Advisory Board has been energetic and effective. His recommendations for the improvement of the University’s Development Fund system demonstrated his special perception and sensitivity to the unique qualities of that area. Because of his continuing service to the University, despite the demanding schedule imposed by his professional obligations, The Ohio State University recognizes his dedication by conferring upon J. Wesley Leas the Distinguished Service Award.

JULIA L. MARINE
For twenty-nine years Julia Marine has helped to plan, organize, and administer the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences. She supported the restructuring of the College of Arts and Sciences into its five distinct units, helping to preserve liberal arts education on this campus, while maintaining for her peers an atmosphere of order and quiet transition. She earned the appreciation and respect of students and faculty whose tasks were facilitated by her perception, skill, and counsel. The Ohio State University recognizes her dedication by conferring upon Julia L. Marine the Distinguished Service Award.

To Our New Alumni:

Welcome, a warm welcome, to the ranks of the alumni of The Ohio State University. Back in 1878 there were six alumni—new and untested. This small group has grown in 1975 to an alumni body of tens of thousands who have received degrees here, and our loyal Ohio State University Alumni Association has built the largest organized constituency that exists among universities today.

The modern alumnus is a dedicated servant of education. The fruits of a good education—the critical mind, the discerning spirit, the higher values, the sense of commitment, and the privilege of service—are exemplified in tens of thousands of our products.

In a very real sense, the alumni are members of the family and full-fledged partners in the enterprise—in Ohio, in the nation, and throughout the world.

What can you do for the University? There seems to be general agreement on four major services which alumni can be counted on to render: 1) the ambassadorial service of representing Ohio State well wherever they go; 2) the service of strengthening Ohio State's resources through participation in the Development Fund; 3) the recruiting service of well qualified students to Ohio State; and 4) the advisory service of strengthening Ohio State's role in society.

A great university is composed of many diverse people and many diverse ideas; so is society as a whole—and our alumni are the people best able to provide the vital link between our campus and its environment. With your assistance, we cannot fail to meet this challenge.

The University extends to you a year's free membership in the Association and will automatically subscribe to THE MONTHLY, a magazine devoted to the task of helping you "keep in touch" with our exciting pursuit of human excellence.

Congratulations to you—and to your families and friends. You are joining a great family, for Ohio State is permanent among so many impermanencies. Your University is something to come back to—growing ever more rich and mellow in spirit.

Sincerely,

C. William O'Neill

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics as well, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings made capes and floor length capes with attached hoods a necessity for warmth. Probably because of the costumes' religious heritage, they remained largely drab until the universities gradually began to pass from the control of the Church, wherein some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. However, old prints and engravings reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and the academic costume worn today.

In light of our nation's strong English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity with regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed which prepared a code for caps, gowns, and hoods which has been adopted by all institutions. Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the more familiar mortarboard square—a shape which bellad folklore suggests resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress which might indicate rank or social strata. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctor's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but is lined with the official colors of the University.

THE HOOD
Bachelor
Three feet in length with a two-inch wide velvet.*

Master
Three and one-half feet in length with a three-inch wide velvet.*

Doctor
Four feet in length with a five-inch wide velvet and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution from which the degree was received. The color of the velvet indicates the field in which the doctoral was granted:

- Dentistry: Lilac
- Law: Purple
- Medicine: Green
- Musical Arts: Pink
- Optometry: Sea-fon Green
- Philosophy: Dark Blue
- Veterinary Medicine: Gray

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

CAP AND TASSEL

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel the color of which is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

- Graduate School: Black
- College of The Arts (B.F.A.): White (Brown)
- School of Music: Pink
- College of Biological Sciences: White
- College of Humanities: White
- College of Mathematics and Physical Sciences: White
- College of Social and Behavioral Sciences: White
- School of Journalism: Crimson
- College of Administrative Science: Drab
- School of Public Administration: Peacock Blue
- School of Social Work: Citron
- College of Agriculture and Home Economics: Maize

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

There will be no permanent seating in the first row of the Mezzanine level. This area has been reserved for your convenience in taking photographs. Only press photographers are permitted at floor level.

A limited number of programs listing the names of all graduates are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be sent to the Office of Special Events, 10 Administration Building, 190 N. Oval Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.
Amid hammering and shouting, 24 students assembled in an incomplete University Hall and watched their professor improvise a lecture table with a carpenter's bench and a physics demonstration with a dinner bell. It was the first day of classes at Ohio State University, known then as the Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College.

That was back in 1873. During its next 100 years, Ohio State remained true to and expanded upon its original objectives: “to furnish a good general education by which the youth of Ohio shall be fitted for the several pursuits and professions of life . . . to produce opportunities for those who wish to pursue special studies.”

To those ends, the university now offers about 250 academic programs to more than 53,000 students. It is the headquarters for two unique research groups: the Institute of Polar Studies, the only multi-disciplinary bi-polar institute in the nation; and the Disaster Research Center, the only such center in the world performing sociological research on reactions of groups and organizations in community-wide emergencies, particularly natural disasters.

Surrounded by the vigorous expansion of the last decade, a replica of University Hall is now being constructed on the original site. A testimony to past dedication and present commitment, it will once again honor Ohio State's pledge of quality education and public service.
