Processional

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat and Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Commencement Speaker

---

Marilyn Robinson Waldman

Marilyn Robinson Waldman is a professor of history and director of the Center for Comparative Studies in the Humanities.

A nationally known expert in Islamic and Middle East history, she earned her bachelor's degree in 1963 from Radcliffe, where she was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa. She received both her graduate degrees in Islamic history from the University of Chicago: a master's degree with honors in 1966 and a doctoral degree with distinction in 1974.

She began her career at Ohio State in 1971 as an instructor in history. In 1974 she was promoted to assistant professor and in 1978 to associate professor. Her tenure at Ohio State also includes three years as director of the Near and Middle East Studies Program and three years as chairperson of the Division of Comparative Studies in the Humanities.

Her contributions to Ohio State and to her field of study have been immense. Within the University she has served on more than 40 committees, including the Phi Beta Kappa standards committee, the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences Personalized Study Program Review Committee, and the University-Industry Relations Committee. She was also instrumental in the design and establishment of the Religious Studies Program, which she has headed since its inception in January 1983. Also in 1983, she co-chaired the Third Annual Symposium in the Humanities, which dealt with religion in the modern world.

Among her 45 published works are four books and 24 scholarly articles, and she has produced several translations and textbooks. Since arriving at Ohio State, she has made more than 250 public presentations in eight states to a variety of organizations. She is on the executive board of the American Society for the Study of Religion and is the recipient of numerous honors and awards, including election to the American Society for the Study of Religion and awards that funded her post-doctoral study in Iran.

John F. Havens

After graduating from Ohio State with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1949, John F. Havens went on to build an enviable career as a banker, real estate developer, and broker. His rise in financial circles culminated in his being named chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Banc One Corporation, a position he held from 1980 to 1986. Numerous civic citations complement several professional awards, and he serves on the boards of a variety of institutions, among them the W.W. Williams Company, Advanced Drainage Systems Inc., and Cardinal Distributions Inc., all of the Columbus area.

Havens' involvement with Ohio State did not end with his commencement in 1949; since that time, he has continued to support the University and provide leadership in many arenas. He recently completed a nine-year term on Ohio State's Board of Trustees, serving as chairman during 1985-86; is a past chairman of the Board of Directors of the Development Fund; and is currently a member of the National Campaign Committee of The Ohio State University Campaign.

He was instrumental in Bank One of Columbus' decision to commit $1 million for the Bank One Chair of Excellence at Ohio State. Recently, Havens made a substantial gift of real estate that will benefit the College of Agriculture. Ohio State is proud to present him with the Distinguished Service Award as an expression of the University's sincere appreciation.

William Poland

At the time of his death in March 1987, William Poland was professor emeritus of music and had served for many years as associate dean of the Graduate School. He came to Ohio State in 1949 as an instructor and was, subsequently, the first student to earn a doctoral degree in music from the University and one of the founders of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra.

As a scholar in music theory, he made significant contributions in the areas of musical behavior and analysis, and two of his books have become classics in the field. Keenly interested in experimental activities in the arts, he founded what was called the Center for Experimental Research in the Arts from 1965 to 1986. Current scholars consider him a pioneer in integrating musical theory into today's high-technology computer era. He was honored in 1971 with Ohio State's prestigious Alumni Award for Distinguished Teaching.

In 1975, when he took on additional responsibilities as associate dean, he created a program review system for the University that has become a national model for other institutions. His lasting contributions to the University also include his acquisition of the Cazden Collection—an archive of papers, compositions and other materials of Norman Cazden, an important music theorist, composer, and performer.

Maybelle L. Ruppert

For nearly a quarter of a century, Maybelle Ruppert has served as executive secretary to the president of The Ohio State University. Former President Novice G. Fawcett recruited her to the University in 1964 from her position as executive secretary to the governor of West Virginia; since then, her career at Ohio State has spanned the tenure of three presidents.

She is known throughout the university for her uncommon competence and for her loyalty to and love of Ohio State. Her 23 years of service have crossed over both good and bad times in higher education, but, as noted by the three presidents whom she has served, her commitment has been unwavering.

Her position has been one of low visibility in a high-visibility office. While she herself has not been in the spotlight, her talent has contributed a great deal to the overall strength of the Office of the President.

She has earned the respect of the faculty, the administration, and the sector of the business community with which the University deals. She has adeptly handled the public relations component of her position. As the president's secretary, she dealt with individuals at all levels, and was unfailingly courteous to all guests, ranging from students to foreign dignitaries. The University proudly confers this award to her for her long-standing devotion and superior service.

Seward D. Schooler

Seward Schooler is a former director of Banc One Corporation and serves as chairman of the executive committee and honorary director of Bank One of Coshocton. Throughout his banking career he also has served as director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, as president of the Ohio Bankers Association, and as president of the National Bank Division of the American Bankers Association. He is also a trustee of several educational institutions and president of the Coshocton County Industrial Development Corporation.

For more than 20 years, he has been a generous supporter of Ohio State. Among his major contributions is his co-sponsorship of the Schooler-Reese Lecture Series, through which two former presidents of the United States and other distinguished world leaders have visited the University to give public lectures and meet informally with students and faculty.

He has promoted the University's academic excellence by supporting the National Merit Scholar Program, the Reese Chair in Banking, and several projects in the College of Medicine. A member of The Presidents Club and The Presidents Council, he served on the Executive Committee of The Presidents Club for six years and is at present a member of the National Campaign Committee for The Ohio State University Campaign. The University is proud to recognize him with this award.

Faye S. Smith

Since graduating in 1939 with a bachelor's degree in business education from Ohio State, Faye S. Smith has pursued excellence in education in many arenas. A high school teacher for 14 years, she returned to the University for her master's degree. In 1953 she accepted a position as assistant professor at Otterbein College. She returned to Ohio State again in 1960—this time in an administrative role as assistant to the secretary of the Board of Trustees, a position from which she retired in 1984.

For 24 years, she was the key administrative official in the Office of the Board of Trustees. She coordinated and prepared agenda materials for board meetings, recorded official proceedings of those meetings, updated and published appropriate bylaws and rules, and conducted other day-to-day activities for the board.

During her tenure at Ohio State, Smith served three board secretaries under the administration of three University presidents. She had a thorough knowledge of Ohio State's history and could lend important perspective to a variety of problems. Her involvement with the University did not stop at the office door: as a member of The Presidents Club and the Alumni Association, she was and continues to be involved personally as well. The University is pleased to present her with this award for her professional and personal contributions.

Marion L. Smith

Marion L. Smith, former associate dean of the College of Engineering, has participated in an unusually broad range of activities throughout his 37 years at The Ohio State University. He began his teaching career at the University in 1947 as a graduate student. For 11 years he was a leading faculty member in the mechanical engineering department. During this period in his career, he compiled an impressive record in teaching and in scholarship.

He subsequently spent 26 years as associate dean. Among his greatest contributions has been his achievement in developing solid relationships between students and faculty and in enhancing morale throughout the college. A by-product of this relationship has been the firm ties between the college and its alumni long after commencement day. His special abilities have also been recognized by other universities: he has received invitations to candidacy for chairmanships and deanships from a dozen recognized universities. He has, however, chosen to stay at Ohio State out of love for and loyalty to his alma mater.

As associate dean, he has assumed a leadership role in promoting the college—as well as the University—in academic circles nationwide. The link between the College of Engineering and industry has also been strengthened as a result of his efforts. He was instrumental in establishing the Society of Women Engineers as a support organization at a time when few females ventured into the engineering curriculum. His lengthy list of professional awards indicate the scope of his achievement and are a testament to his talent as a scholar, professor, and administrator. Ohio State welcomes the opportunity to honor him for his distinguished and productive career.

Congratulations and Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. For you, one era has passed; another is about to begin.

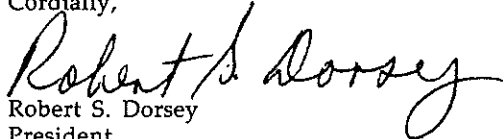

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishment. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the University in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the OSU/Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the University's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

Robert S. Dorsey
President

Dan L. Heinlen
Director of Alumni Affairs

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an inter-collegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a reshaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

*Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Sea-foam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine	Gray

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.)	White
(Others)	Brown
School of Music (B.A.)	White
(Others)	Pink
College of Biological Sciences	White
College of Humanities	White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences	White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences	White
School of Journalism	Crimson
College of Agriculture	Maize
School of Natural Resources	Blue-Green
College of Business	Drab
School of Public Administration	Peacock Blue
College of Dentistry	Lilac
College of Education	Light Blue
School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation	Sage Green
College of Engineering	Orange
School of Architecture	Blue-Violet
College of Home Economics	Maroon
College of Law	Purple
College of Medicine	Green
School of Allied Medical Professions	Green
College of Nursing	Apricot
College of Optometry	Sea-foam Green
College of Pharmacy	Olive Green
College of Social Work	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine	Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and University administrative officers.
