Summer Commencement 2008

POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head,
not to mention a funny robe, full of music—
poems and melodies, the tunes
we move to, shower and shave by,
study, write to. Not just the incidental,

but the momentous music keeping time.
Our histories are measures of song.
Listen to your heart: drums of Africa,
sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often,

music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Boheme, Sono un poeta.
I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony

is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year
or that first day of graduate school.
In my head I press Play, and the CD
of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger

over moments too sweet, nearly, for words.
I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery.
Up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents
of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony

means you all are less young than you were.
Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades.
Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King
(King of what, fried butter sandwiches?)
who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—

kill some rabbits—to earn respect.
And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford,

"Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore
we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's
fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o.
My grandfather was a peasant farmer,
a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. *Lucky, lucky,

lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun*.
*I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours,
That leaves eight hours for fun*.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years
for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere,

or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even,
President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage

it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport.
You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing.
You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing
with the diversity of us. Diversity.
Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, *the richness of us,
precious difference*, the grand multiplicity
of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights

around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago.

Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me
through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—

by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio,

in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us

we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing
with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.

Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry
is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park,

and you searched our dark, ancient library
for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first
"Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help

but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here

were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.

When we sing to others, we honor
our fathers and mothers, thank them

for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater.
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help.
*Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
it's time we moved out, got a place of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet* from crying. We won't forget you.

Now, even though this ceremony
means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day. *Summer's heat,

and winter's cold, The seasons pass,
the years will roll, Time and change*

will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves,
and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.

Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn
our ancestors collaborated on with us,
the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly

all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—
to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

David L. Denlinger

David L. Denlinger is Distinguished University Professor and professor of entomology at The Ohio State University.

Dr. Denlinger earned his bachelor's degree in zoology from Pennsylvania State University in 1967 and his doctorate in entomology from the University of Illinois in 1971. He served as a research scientist for the International Centre of Insect Physiology and Ecology in Nairobi, Kenya, and as a research associate at Harvard University before joining the Ohio State faculty in 1976.

Dr. Denlinger is regarded as one of the world's leading environmental insect physiologists, and his research has had a profound impact on agriculture, the environment, and human health. His discoveries on how insects survive harsh weather offer new tools for controlling insect populations and for better understanding the regulation of animal development. His ongoing research in Africa focuses on the regulation of the reproduction of the tsetse fly, vectors of African sleeping sickness and nagana.

He served as chair of the Department of Entomology from 1994 to 2005 and won Ohio State's Distinguished Scholar award in 1996. In 2005, he was named Distinguished University Professor, Ohio State's highest faculty honor.

In 2004, Dr. Denlinger was elected to the National Academy of Sciences, the premier scientific society in the United States. He also has been named a fellow of the Royal Entomological Society, the Entomological Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Additionally, he has more than 200 published papers, serves on the editorial boards of six international scholarly journals, and has been the editor of the Journal of Insect Physiology since 1993.

Dr. Denlinger has received numerous awards, including the Recognition Award in Insect Physiology, the Founder's Memorial Award, and the C.V. Riley Achievement Award, all from the Entomological Society of America, as well as the Antarctica Service Medal from the National Science Foundation and the Gregor Mendel Medal from the Czech Academy of Sciences.

John L. Hall

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Nobel laureate John L. Hall is senior fellow emeritus at the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), adjunct professor at the University of Colorado, and adjunct fellow of JILA (formerly the Joint Institute for Laboratory Astrophysics), a cooperative physical science research institute of NIST and the University of Colorado-Boulder.

The Colorado native holds BS, MS, and PhD degrees from the Carnegie Institute of Technology (now Carnegie-Mellon University). He joined the National Bureau of Standards (now NIST) as a physicist in 1962 and served as senior scientist from 1971 until his retirement in 2004.

Internationally renowned for his experimentation with lasers, Dr. Hall has contributed significantly to the evolution of the laser from a laboratory curiosity into one of the fundamental tools of modern science. His research has resulted in a number of major innovations and developments in laser frequency stabilization, high-resolution and ultrasensitive laser spectroscopy, laser length and frequency standards, laser/atom cooling, quantum optics, and high-precision laser-based measurements.

He was awarded the 2005 Nobel Prize in Physics, jointly with Theodor Hänsch of the Max Planck Institute and Roy Glauber of Harvard, for his pioneering work on “Optical Comb” techniques, which allow simple and direct measurement of optical frequencies and have broad applications in science, meteorology, and diagnostic medicine.

Dr. Hall has received numerous other peer-generated awards, has more than 235 refereed publications, and holds 11 U.S. patents, the most recent on “Airport Sniffing.” He is a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the French Légion d’honneur, and fellow of the Optical Society of America and the American Physical Society.

Frank Wilczek

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Frank Wilczek is the Herman Feshbach Professor of Physics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and an adjunct professor in the Centro de Estudios Científicos in Valdivia, Chile.

Considered one of the world’s most eminent theoretical physicists, he is known, among other things, for the discovery of asymptotic freedom, the development of quantum chromodynamics, the invention of axions, and the discovery and exploitation of new forms of quantum statistics (anyons). When only 21 years old and a graduate student at Princeton University, in work with David Gross, he defined the properties of color gluons, which hold atomic nuclei together. For this work, he was awarded the 2004 Nobel Prize in Physics.

Professor Wilczek received his BS degree from the University of Chicago and his PhD from Princeton University. After teaching at Princeton from 1974 to 1981, he was the Chancellor Robert Huttenback Professor of Physics at the University of California at Santa Barbara, and the first permanent member of the National Science Foundation’s Institute for Theoretical Physics. In 2000, he moved from the Institute for Advanced Study, where he was the J.R. Oppenheimer Professor, to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Professor Wilczek has received fellowships from the Sloan Foundation and the MacArthur Foundation. He is the recipient of UNESCO’s Dirac Medal, the American Physical Society’s Sakurai Prize, the Michelson Prize from Case Western University, and the Lorentz Medal of the Netherlands Academy for his contributions to the development of theoretical physics. He is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, the Netherlands Academy of Sciences, and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He contributes regularly to Physics Today and to Nature, explaining topics at the frontiers of physics to wider scientific audiences.

His book, Longing for the Harmonies, co-written with his wife, Betsy Devine, was named a New York Times Notable Book of the Year. He is also the author of Fantastic Realities and his new book The Lightness of Being.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Alice Remington Galloway

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

Alice Remington Galloway is a longtime supporter of and advocate for The Ohio State University, having earned her bachelor of arts degree in speech as a Phi Beta Kappa scholar from the university in 1947.

After raising her children, Mrs. Galloway joined the faculty of the Marion City Schools in 1967, teaching English, speech, and drama until her 1986 retirement. Throughout her teaching career, she was a member of many educational and theatrical organizations and directed annual musical and theatrical productions.

With her late husband, Joseph W. Galloway Jr., Mrs. Galloway devoted her energies to establishing the Ohio State Marion campus. Actively involved with the campus since its inception in 1957, the Galloways solicited funds from individuals and organizations throughout central Ohio to buy land and build Morrill Hall in 1968 and are recognized as campus founders. She has continued to be an active Marion campus volunteer for five decades in a variety of roles, including Buckeye Backers, a group of volunteers that she helped organize to serve the campus as needed and for which she serves as unofficial historian.

Beginning in 2006, Mrs. Galloway began service on the Marion campus 50th Anniversary Committee, where she researched archival scrapbooks and created a chronology of events vital to the development, character, and progress of the campus. The first segment of that history has been published and is titled Reflections: 1957-1968. The next installment will cover the 40 years of the present campus and its growth.

Mrs. Galloway's service was recognized with the Marion campus Ralph Howard Service Award in 2001. In 2006, she established the Susan Galloway Endowed Scholarship in memory of her late daughter, who earned her bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Ohio State.

Corbett A. Price

Corbett A. Price is founder, chair, and chief executive officer of Kurron Shares of America, Inc., a leading health care acquisition, management, consulting, restructuring, and strategic advisory firm with offices in New York, Washington, D.C., Columbus, and Bermuda.

Since founding Kurron in 1990, Mr. Price has led the restructuring and revitalization of health care institutions and systems valued in excess of $2 billion. He has directed the operational, restructuring, and financial revitalization of more than 60 health care companies, urgent care centers, physician groups, assisted living nursing homes and home health care companies, third party administration companies, and hospitals throughout the United States.

Recognized as an international leader in health care management, Mr. Price has been frequently called upon by the governments of Central and South American countries to design, develop, or improve their health care systems. He is currently working with the governments of Mexico and Barbados to develop their health care systems.

Since earning his master's degree in health administration from The Ohio State University in 1975, Mr. Price has been a dedicated supporter of and advocate for the university. He provided the lead gift to create a professorship in Health Services Management and Policy in the College of Public Health, where he also established an endowment to fund scholarships, technological enhancements, and training programs. In addition, he has supported the Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity. He serves as a director of The Ohio State University Foundation Board and is a member of the advisory board of the Fisher College of Business.

Mr. Price is the father of two sons, Devin Price and Dorian Price, both graduates of Ohio State. He is the co-founder, with Devin, of the Louise Cares Foundation, which provides educational opportunities, including private boarding school scholarships, to promising young inner city males from Baltimore, Maryland. Devin named the foundation in honor of his maternal grandmother, Louise Jenkins Bates, who graduated from Ohio State in 1936.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS GIFT

For more than a century, graduating seniors have joined together to bestow a Class Gift upon the university. This tradition began in 1891 when a group of students planted five elm trees on the Oval the evening before graduation.

Since then, Class Gifts have touched the lives of hundreds of thousands of Ohio State students, alumni, and friends. From the Orton Hall chimes to “The Long Walk” on the Oval, Class Gifts have shaped our campus experience, helping to create the Ohio State we all know and cherish today.

Class Gifts are also shaping the Ohio State of tomorrow. The 2008 Class Gift is continuing this rich tradition. As the Class of 2008 collectively prepares to cross the stage as students and leave as graduates, they are leaving a legacy that will celebrate this special day and benefit future generations of Ohio State students for years to come.

They are leaving an indelible mark on the university—literally. Across campus, the new Ohio Union is being built. The 2008 Class Gift is a 16-foot university seal that will be embedded in the floor of the Great Hall in the new Ohio Union.

Continuing in the tradition of the first Ohio Union, the new Ohio Union will open in 2010 and serve as a hub for students to gather, participate in activities, and be part of a community. It will also be a place where alumni and friends can return to reminisce about their campus experience. The beautiful seal will serve as a focal point, reminding past, present, and future Buckeyes of the Class of 2008’s generosity.

As we continue to build on the past to build for the future, graduates who wish to make their 2008 Class Gift of $20.08 may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the Class of 2008 and thanks them for making a difference at Ohio State!

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GEE

Today marks your official launch. My expectations for you are boundless, just as they are for Ohio State. After all, you are now a graduate of one of the finest universities in the world. I hope that makes you feel both proud and somewhat pressured.

You might start by asking yourself two questions, as most new graduates who are contemplating a move will do: What should I keep? What should I give away? Although I am no longer young enough to know everything, I do know enough to offer this advice. Some things to keep: An open mind, as challenged by your professors. The memory of Orton Hall's chimes, because that is tradition. The sound of jackhammers at the Ohio Union and Thompson Library, because that is progress. Keep close the friend you made during orientation, when you were both excited and overwhelmed. Lock the best of this place in your heart and stow it away for the times you will need sustenance. Set out tomorrow morning, pick up just the right wind, and launch the next phase of your life.

You will have to jettison some things. Keep away from people who diminish your dreams, who deride your ambitions. Give up your doubts, and that little voice inside your head that says, "You can't." Ohio State says you can.

Even as you may struggle to make ends meet, you have so much to give away. Give your time and talent to a cause you believe in. Give your hope to make a better world, because you come from a great public university that believes in doing the world's good. Give your courage when it is not convenient, your integrity now that it is most needed, your honesty in all things large and small. Give your compassion, because the world often seems to be running short. Give it your best shot, every day.

Like me, you will look to Ohio State as a harbor of high aspirations. When you tell people that you are an Ohio State graduate, you will be telling them our story, singing our song. You will represent the great promise of this land-grant institution to make a difference in others' lives. You will know, firsthand, that Ohio State changes lives.

Go where your calling takes you, along a route that might meander. Go beyond the routine, the expected, and the easy. Like this university, you are capable of greatness. As you prepare to cast off, I hope that Ohio State has lived up to all your expectations. Now it is your turn to live up to ours. And send me a postcard every now and then to let me know how you are doing.

O-H!

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (PhD)	Gray
(Others).....	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences	White
College of the Arts (BA, BS Design).....	White

School of Music (BA)	White

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.
