Alma Mater — Carmen Ohio
Graduates and Guests led by
Faith Muzet Decker
Class of 1979
Oh! come let’s sing Ohio’s praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer’s heat or Winter’s cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship — Ohio.

The Recipients of Honors

Rupert Lloyd Atkin
Doctor of Science

Renowned mechanical engineer and alumnus of this University, Rupert Lloyd Atkin is widely acknowledged as a leading figure in the field of automotive technology. His pioneering inventions and numerous patents reflect the singular role he has played in making automobiles safer for drivers and passengers. His eminence and influence in the field of engineering have been recognized nationally and internationally by his election to the National Academy of Engineering. For a career of great distinction he has earned the ultimate tribute—the high regard of his professional colleagues.

Melvin S. Newman
Doctor of Science

The world of chemistry and, indeed, the world at large have been changed and made better by Melvin S. Newman’s imagination and excellence as a research scholar and by his dedication and creativity as a teacher. His many contributions to chemical education and research, spanning more than 40 years of service at this University, stand in permanent testimony to a career of great distinction. International acclaim and high honors have followed, including membership in the National Academy of Sciences. He embodies the scholar’s life in its fullest measure, devoted to the advancement of knowledge and the enrichment of mankind.

To Our New Alumni

You may not notice the difference. But today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. You don't look different, but right now you may be experiencing a feeling of excitement, anticipation, and a great desire to celebrate. For you, one era has passed; another is about to begin.

From the six alumni who experienced the first Commencement in 1878 to the thousands who make up today's Ohio State University Alumni Association, our organized efforts have galvanized energies, ideas, and enthusiasm into greater good for Alma Mater.

As an alumnus, you are a member of the Buckeye family and a partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

Today, and later, you may ask what you can do for the University. There seems to be general agreement on four areas where alumni can provide significant assistance: recruiting of new and highly qualified students; representing Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements; participating financially through the Development Fund; and working in an advisory capacity with the University to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a congratulatory year's free membership in the Alumni Association which we fund jointly with the Development Fund. Included is a year's subscription to our award-winning alumni magazine, The Monthly.

Devoted to the task of helping you keep in touch with our exciting pursuit of human excellence, the alumni magazine will also help you maintain an update on your friends and colleagues.

To you, your families, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today, go our congratulations. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference.

Cordially,

Walter S. Klevay

Summer's heat or winter's cold
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.
The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics as well, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings made caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods a necessity for warmth. Probably because of the costumes’ religious heritage, they remained drab until the universities gradually began to pass from the control of the Church, whereupon some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. However, old prints and engravings reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and the academic costume worn today.

In light of our nation’s strong English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity with regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed which prepared a code for caps, gowns, and hoods which has been adopted by all institutions. Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the more familiar mortarboard square — a shape which ballad folklore suggests resembles a scholar’s book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship for it covers any dress which might indicate rank or social strata. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctor’s degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the University.

The Gown

Bachelor Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.
Master Black, long or short sleeves with arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.
Doctor Black, with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor Three feet in length with a two-inch-wide velvet.
Master Three and one-half feet in length with a three-inch-wide velvet.
Doctor Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution from which the degree was received. The color of the velvet indicates the field in which the doctoral was granted:

- Dentistry Lilac
- Law Purple
- Medicine Green
- Musical Arts Pink
- Optometry Sea-Foam Green
- Philosophy Dark Blue
- Veterinary Medicine Gray

*Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.
