Autumn 2025 Semester

7893 Collaborative Interdisciplinary Research Studio Experience

G 1 - 3

Creative research by multi-disciplinary teams integrating information, data, techniques, tools, perspectives, concepts, &/or theories from two or more bodies of specialized knowledge to advance fundamental understanding or solve problems whose solutions are evolving.

Components: LAB SEM

Prereq: Grad standing. Repeatable to a maximum of 10 cr hrs or 4 completions.

Anthropology

ANTHROP

Autumn 2025 Semester

3604 Intro to the Methods of Archaeological Science

U 3

Introduces students to interdisciplinary techniques used in archaeology to include forensic archaeology. This course will discuss a range of analytical techniques with a heavy emphasis on taphonomy, or the postmortem processes that affect remains after deposition. This course is taught at an introductory level for non-science majors. Anthrop 2201 and/or 3305 is suggested.

Autumn 2025 Semester

7720 Teaching In Anthropology

G 3

Focuses on skills and pedagogy involved in teaching introductory anthropology.

Prereq: Grad standing in Anthrop or related discipline.

Aviation

AVIATN

Autumn 2025 Semester

3194 Group Studies in Aviation

U 2 - 5

Research, project(s), and/or investigation into comprehensive and larger aviation topics that are not treated in existing classes and are best served by a team.

Prereq: Permission of instructor. Repeatable to a maximum of 7 cr hrs or 2 completions.

Autumn 2025 Semester

3600 Business and Corporate Aviation Management

U 3

Analysis and review of the principles and challenges of operating an on-demand air transportation system. Consideration of decision making strategies and sound operating practices that are needed to define and manage a corporate flight department. Presentation of information via textbook, assigned readings, videos, lecture and guest speakers. This is an RATP approved course.

Prereq: 3000.

Autumn 2025 Semester3700 Building a Diverse Workforce in Aviation*U 3

This course is an analysis of what it takes to create and sustain a diverse and inclusive workforce in the aviation industry. Students will engage with guest speakers and readings to understand how diversity, inclusion, and equity are defined. Readings will cover the historical significance of diversity and inclusion efforts.

Prereq: 2200.

Autumn 2025 Semester3850 Applied Aircraft Performance II*U 3

Second of an applied course sequence covering the fundamental principles of aerodynamics, aircraft performance, and stability of high-performance aircraft. Course includes compressible aerodynamics, flight stability and handling. This is an RATP approved course.

Prereq: 2850.

Autumn 2025 Semester3900 Air Traffic Management Systems and Environment*U 3

This course is the second in a two-course sequence examining the role and function of the Air Traffic Control environment as it relates to operations and pilot communications within the National Airspace System (NAS). This is an RATP approved course.

Prereq: 2900.

BiologyBIOLOGY*Autumn 2025 Semester*1111 Biological Foundations 1: Cells and Chemistry of Life*U 3

An introductory exploration of life's chemical and cellular foundations, including macromolecular and cellular structure and function, energetics, pathways, the nature of scientific endeavors, and metacognitive strategies. Includes a required weekly Peer Led Team Learning Workshop. Combined with Bio 1112, these courses will address content at similar depth and breadth as Bio 1113.

Prereq or Concur: Math 1075 or 1120. Not open to students with credit for 1113.xx.

Autumn 2025 Semester1112 Biological Foundations 2: Molecular Machinery & Genetics*U 4

An introductory exploration of life's cellular and genetic mechanisms, molecular biology, and metacognitive strategies. Includes a required weekly Peer Led Team Learning Workshop. Intended for students Majoring in STEM fields. Combined with Bio 1111, these courses will address content at similar depth and breadth as Bio 1113.xx.

Prereq: 1111; Concur or Prereq: Math 1121 or 1148. Not open to students with credit for 1113.xx. GE foundation natural sci course.

Business Admin: Management & Human RsrcsBUSMHR*Spring 2026 Semester*4010 International Business Strategies*U 3

This course highlights how firms make decisions to go abroad, select among foreign markets, and develop international strategies to enhance their profitability and long-term competitive advantage. It will also highlight economic and political risks of international business and discuss ways that firms can mitigate these risks.

Prereq: 2000. Not open to students with credit for 3000, or International Business Major students.

Fundamentals of electrical circuits, measuring & analyzing data, & troubleshooting those circuits. Analysis of Direct Current (primarily) & Alternating Current circuits (less content) & effects of different components- resistors, capacitors, inductors, and other components in electrical circuits. DC/AC circuit dynamics that will be used in studies of industrial & electronic control applications.

Prereq: Math 1155, 1172 or Math 1152; and Physics 1231 or 1251. Not open to students with credit for ECE 2300.xx.

Autumn 2025 Semester3900 Industrial Automation PLC1*U 3

Industrial Automation PLC1 is a 3-credit hour course designed as the first of two courses intended to provide the students with skills in industrial automation that can be applied in a variety of technical fields related to manufacturing.

Prereqs: 2300; and CSE 1222 or 1223; and Math 1152, 1155 or 1172.

Spring 2026 Semester4200 Industrial Automation - PLC2*U 3

Industrial Automation PLC2 is designed as the second of two courses to provide the students with skills in industrial automation for manufacturing. The course is designed to provide students with the comprehensive review of functions, operation, and communication of automated industrial systems including PID loops, HMIs, data transfer, troubleshooting PLC networks for equipment/process integration.

Prereq: C- or above in 3900.

Spring 2026 Semester4300 Facility Layout and Integration*U 3

Facility Layout and integration is a 3-hr course designed to give student skills needed to create effective layouts considering people, technology, process, throughput, and support systems. The class will build upon skills gained in previous classes in AutoCAD and Manufacturing Processes as well as use skills in analysis and design skills.

Prereq: 1500 and 1600.

Spring 2026 Semester4700 Network and Network Security*U 3

This course will provide you with an understanding of the basics of networking devices and systems along with the cyber security considerations and technology required for the deployment of these solutions. The cyber security materials will include a study of the human elements that impact this space. The course will provide an introduction to the safety control systems deployed in manufacturing.

Prereq: 3600.
